

LORIMER ASKED AN INVESTIGATION

BLONDE BOSS OF CHICAGO IN VITES SENATE TO MAKE INQUIRY INTO ELECTION.

CALLS IT ALL POLITICS

Also Plot of the Tribune to Ruin His Financial Interests—Prizes Brown as a Man.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—William Lorimer, United States Senator from Illinois, who is charged with having bought his election to the United States Senate by various Chicago interests, today asked the Senate to make a most thorough investigation of his case.

Senator Lorimer admitted his case to the Senate's consideration in a speech in which he laid all the blame for the trouble on the Chicago Tribune, his principal accuser and bitterly attacked the man who is alleged to have conspired to the bribery.

Senator Lorimer reviewed in detail nearly twenty-five years of warfare in which he has been engaged and declared that the Chicago Tribune had and knew it had when it charged bribery.

Senator Lorimer declared that those who made the charge had in view not only his political destruction, but that there was a deliberate purpose to destroy a new banking association in Chicago which he had been organizing with some friends.

"I do not know what kind of a man he would be who would dare to offer a bribe to Brown," said Senator Lorimer, "much less ask him to bribe others. He stands in the front rank of successful lawyers at the bar in Illinois."

Referred to Committee. Lorimer's resolution for an investigation of his election to the Senate was referred under the rules to the committee on contingent expenses.

Senate Expected. Springfield, May 28.—Sensational developments are expected late this afternoon in the legislative bribery scandal, for it is rumored that Senator Holtzner, indicted yesterday for perjury, has promised to tell all he knows if promised immunity.

Denied to Wait. Springfield, Ill., May 28.—Governor Denney, when notified of Lorimer's speech today, declared he would not reply to it until he had read a full copy of the speech. It was intimated that he would issue a statement tonight.

PLATTESVILLE GAS CO. IS UNDER FIRE

Mutual Explain to State Railroad Commission How It Expended Funds

From $50,000 Bond Issue. (BY UNITED PRESS.)

Madison, Wis., May 28.—The Wisconsin state railroad commission on its own initiative has issued an order requiring the Platteville Gas company to appear June 2 and explain how it expended the funds derived from fifty thousand dollars of bonds authorized in 1908, to pay for a complete gas manufacturing and distributing plant.

In the order authorizing the sale of the securities the company was required to report what disposition it made of the funds received within 30 days but the company failed to obey the order.

"MOTHER RUTH" DEAD AT FOND DU LAC HOME

Founder of the Episcopal Sisterhood Passed Away Aged Eighty.

(By United Press.)

Fond du Lac, Wis., May 28.—Mother Ruth, founder of the Episcopal sisterhood of the Holy Nativity, died today at the age of eighty-five years.

She founded the sisterhood at Providence, Rhode Island, and the mother house was moved to Fond du Lac five years ago. Mother Ruth has been an invalid for twenty years and has been out of her room only once during that time, that time being when she came to Fond du Lac in a special car.

CARP FINE EATING GOVERNOR SAYS SO

Wholesale Effort to Exterminate Dainty Delicacy of the Mud May Be Abandoned.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., May 28.—Governor Davidson, in an interview today, says he has eaten carp and found it a good fish. This will no doubt cause a suspension of the selling of Wisconsin taken to destroy carp.

CLARNO WOMAN HAD MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Mrs. Tobias Uninjured in Runaway in Which Carriage She Was Driven Was Overturned.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Monroe, Wis., May 28.—Mrs. Tobias H. Wild, living on the old Truman place in Clarno, had a runaway while driving to this city with a load of marketable articles. An auto, driven by John Kubly, also of Clarno, came close to the rig, which Mrs. Wild was driving, and frightened the horse, which dashed down the road.

The buggy was overturned but the horse continued on its way dragging the rig and occupant with it. Mrs. Wild braced herself against the dashboard so hard that the board was broken off. Finally the horse ran up on a bank and the occupant jumped out. She immediately extricated herself from the broken rig and went after the horse, catching it beyond the home of Patrick Grady, about a mile from Grady's Crossing. Several shoppers coming to town just behind the runaway were witnesses to the accident.

Mrs. Wild's escape was nothing short of miraculous. Fortunately she was the only one in the buggy at the time. The rig was smashed and the horse received a bad cut on one leg and several scratches. Mrs. Wild was bruised in several places.

Tin Shower. A number of young lady friends gave a tin shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Buehler, 419 West Russell street for Miss Pearl Johnson, who is to be married in the near future to Frank Buehler, who is engaged in the plumbing business in this city.

Miss Johnson has been employed for several months at the Hotel restaurant and came here from Pennsylvania.

Autos for Veterans. The Monroe Auto club has followed the example of clubs elsewhere and have placed their machines at the disposal of C. F. Dwyer Post, G. A. R., to convey the old soldiers to and from the cemetery in the parade.

Carriages are usually furnished to the veterans but the club expects to have machines enough to carry the entire post.

Flags for Schools. The local W. R. C. have presented a beautiful silk flag to each of the kindergartens in the city. Each school room now has one of these flags, all donations of the Corps.

J. W. Raymer is here from Corning, Cal., having been called by the illness of his father, Freeman Raymer, who is in a very critical condition from a complication of ailments at his home on South Monroe street. Another son, Rollo Raymer, is here from Seattle, Wash.

Miss Ophelia Tschudy is visiting her sister, Miss Mary Tschudy, who is a student in the university at Madison, and from there will go to Cambridge, Wis., for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. C. W. Tschudy is in Evanston, Ill., attending an annual banquet of the Alpha Chi society, of which she is a member.

Miss Charlotte Young and Miss Marie Ludlow will spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Young, who are living in their cottage at Lake Kegonsa.

Miss Janey Copeland of Wauwatosa is here on a visit to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Copeland.

Miss Sophia Allman has gone to Redlands, Cal., where she will spend a month's vacation with relatives.

A little daughter of L. L. Thure, living west of the city, is very ill with pneumonia.

GEORGE I. BORN 250 YEARS AGO

First of Hanover Line of English Rulers Could Speak No English Hence, the Rise of Walpole.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

London, May 28.—Since the accession of George V. to the throne much has been printed in the British papers concerning the four Georges who preceded him. In this connection it is interesting to note that today is the 250th anniversary of the birth of the first of that name, George I., who was the first sovereign of the Hanover line. The succession to the throne of Great Britain and Ireland came through his mother, and reached down through his mother, the granddaughter of James I. Parliament had fixed the succession in the following order: 1. Princess Mary of Orange, eldest daughter of James II.; 2. Princess Anne of Denmark, the younger daughter of James II.; 3. William of Orange, son of Mary, the eldest daughter of Charles II. In the failure of heirs to these, the succession was limited to the electress Sophia of Hanover, granddaughter of James I., and mother of him who became George I.

The most conspicuous figure in the reign of George I. was Sir Robert Walpole, the first prime minister of England. The fact that George could speak no English, while his ministers could speak no German, taken with the other fact that George hated to live in England and spent much of his time in Hanover, gave to the office of prime minister, that Walpole was the first to hold the important character that it has since retained.

TAFT WILL REVIEW NEW YORK PARADE

On Memorial Day—Jeff Davis' Birthday Will Be Celebrated in South on Friday—News Forecast.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., May 28.—The week will be ushered in with the annual observance of Memorial Day throughout the northern states, accompanied, as usual, by the dedication of soldiers' monuments, the decoration of the graves of those who fought and fell in the war between the states, and numerous sporting and athletic events which in recent years have become associated with the holiday.

President Taft will review the Memorial Day parade in New York Monday and two days later he is scheduled to pay a visit to Bryn Mawr college to deliver the annual commencement address.

Friday, the birthday anniversary of Jefferson Davis, only president of the Confederacy, will be widely observed as a holiday throughout the South. At a banquet to be given in St. Louis Thursday night Joseph W. Folk is expected to announce whether he will be a candidate for the United States senate, or whether he will serve his strength for the race for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1912.

The Democratic state primary to be held in Tennessee Saturday will attract general attention owing to the serious split in the party ranks between the supporters and opponents of Governor Patterson.

Other events that will figure in the news of the week will be the unveiling of an equestrian statue of General Custer at Monroe, Mich., the dedication of the Kentucky State Capitol at Frankfort, the celebration of the semi-centennial of the New York Homoeopathic Medical College, the annual convention of the Canadian Medical association in Toronto, and the graduation exercises at the United States Naval Academy and at other leading colleges throughout the country.

Many interesting events and happenings abroad will attract the attention of readers on this side of the Atlantic. The International Court of Arbitration at The Hague is scheduled to begin the hearing of oral arguments for the adjustment of the differences between Great Britain and the United States growing out of the Newfoundland fisheries case.

The new South African commonwealth, comprising the British possessions of Cape Colony, Natal, the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony, will become an accomplished fact Tuesday, on which day the new union government will be formally inaugurated by Viscount Gladstone, the first Governor-General.

Other events of the week abroad will include the running of the historic English Derby at Epsom Downs, the observance of the forty-fifth birthday anniversary of King George V. of the City of London to Theodore Roosevelt, former President of the United States, the twenty-fifth birthday anniversary of Pope Pius X., and the meeting of the eighth convention of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union in Glasgow, at which both the United States and Canada will be well represented by delegates.

WORLD'S COURT AT THE HAGUE

TO ARBITRATE NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES QUESTION

ILLUSTRIOUS MEN ARRIVING

From Many Of The Globe And Lazy Old Dutch Capital Is Buzzing With Anticipation.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

The Hague, May 28.—An army of illustrious counsel engaged to conduct the oral arguments in the Newfoundland fisheries dispute before the International Arbitration Court next week is beginning to put an appearance here. The diplomats and lawyers are accompanied by a host of reporters, technical experts and attaches, together with a number of newspaper correspondents, and the lazy old Dutch capital is beginning to buzz with an animation such as has not been witnessed since the last world's peace conference.

The personnel of the arbitration court is to be the most distinguished ever chosen to preside at the trial of a special case before the great peace tribunal. The presiding officer will be Dr. Heinrich Lammasch, the noted Austrian authority on international law. The other members of the court will be Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; Judge George Gray, of the United States Circuit Court; Jan Kuyper, of the Netherlands; and Luis M. Drago, of the Argentine Republic.

The legal representatives of Great Britain, including Canada and Newfoundland will include the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice of Canada; the Hon. Sir Edward Morris, K. C., Premier of Newfoundland; the Right Hon. Sir Balfour, K. C., Attorney-General of England; Dr. Morrison, K. C., Attorney-General of Newfoundland; the Hon. Sir James Winter, K. C., Former Attorney-General of Newfoundland; the Right Hon. Sir Robert Finlay, former Attorney-General of England; Sir H. Eric Richards, K. C., who was counsel for Great Britain in the Samoa and Venezuela arbitrations; John S. Ewart, K. C., and George Shopley, K. C., distinguished Canadian lawyers. Messrs. Blake and Redden are the British solicitors.

Equally distinguished though not quite so numerous, will be the representatives of the United States. Senator Elihu Root of New York heads the list of counsel, the other members including Charles P. Anderson, who acts as agent; former Senator George Turner of Washington, who represented the United States on the Alaska Boundary Tribunal; Samuel J. Elder, a distinguished lawyer of Boston, and James Brown Scott, solicitor for the Department of State.

The Newfoundland fisheries case is regarded as one of the most important disputes that has arisen between Great Britain and United States in the last century and is the first case to come before the International Arbitration Court under the agreement of the Powers as signed by the Peace Convention, held at The Hague in 1907. The dispute dates back almost one hundred years and during much of that time it has been the fruitful source of irritation and of a voluminous diplomatic correspondence. Naturally it will be a matter of congratulation for both nations when the controversy is at last laid to rest, as it will be by the award of the tribunal about to convene.

The controversy had its origin in the treaty signed by the United States and Great Britain in 1818, by which certain rights of fishery in common with British fishermen, which had been claimed by the United States for its people under the treaty of peace of 1783, were recognized by Great Britain, while others were renounced by the United States. By this renunciation American fishing vessels were not allowed to take, dry or cure fish within three marine miles of the coast, harbors and creeks of the British possessions except certain specified coast and except in certain cases of emergency. Some twenty-five years after the treaty was signed the colonial governments declared that the word "fish" named in the treaty meant only bay or mussel on the mussel, irrespective of its width and some American vessels were seized at distances greater distances than three miles from land.

The United States denied this interpretation of the treaty provisions, asserting that only boats of the sea, not over six miles wide, were intended. From that time forward the interpretation has been in dispute. At a much later period the Newfoundland government adopted regulations as to the coast fisheries of that island, which the American fishermen have the right at certain places to participate in "in common" with British fishermen. Certain of these regulations were thought to be directed against Americans and also to discriminate in favor of the local fishermen. The United States protested against this action as being a violation of the rights of their people. Other questions of a minor character, all growing out of the meaning placed upon the language of the treaty, are involved.

REPUBLICANS TO GATHER JUNE 4TH

COUNTY CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN THIS CITY.

WILL ELECT 32 DELEGATES

To Attend the State Gathering of Taft Republicans in Milwaukee on June 8th.

The formal call to the supporters of the administration of President Taft to meet in Milwaukee on June 8 was issued today by the Republican convention committee in Milwaukee.

The proclamation is signed by nearly 1,000 Milwaukee and Wisconsin republicans. The call specifically states that there will be no endorsement of any state or national candidates; merely a gathering to reassert the principles on which President Taft was elected and which he is striving to enact. It outlines plans for a blow at the insurgents, however.

"It is imperative," says the call, "if the Republican party hopes to maintain itself as a political organization in Wisconsin, that steps be taken to restore to the members of the party some share in the management of its affairs."

Want Government by Majority.
"Representative government of parties is as necessary in a republic as representative government in the states and nation. Where members of parties are given no opportunity to assemble and confer for the purpose of ascertaining the will of a majority of the party there is no way in which that majority can make its will known."

"These statements of fact are fundamental, and it does not require argument to carry conviction of their truth to the mind of the thoughtful citizen. If any thing were needed to prove their soundness, the experience of the Republican party in Wisconsin during the last six years would furnish the required evidence. The Republican voters today are without a voice in choosing their leaders or formulating their party principles. The result is party disorganization, a multiplicity of hostile factions, widespread dissatisfaction, and bitter personal controversies."

The remedy for the unfortunate condition is plain and unmistakable. The party members should exercise their constitutional right of assembly and meet in convention, a right that was fully recognized by our Supreme Court in its recent decision constraining the primary law.

Plans Blow at Insurgents.
"Wisconsin is a Republican state. And yet we are confronted by an anomalous condition that exists at Washington, where Wisconsin members of congress, commissioned by Republican electors to represent their views, are persistently voting with the Democratic minority in that body to delay the enactment of Republican measures, to embarrass the Republican administration, and to defeat or make difficult the redemption of Republican pledges."

"We believe that the Republican party of this state endorse President Taft and his administration. We believe further that the time has come when the Republicans of this state should choose representatives who are not officeholders or officeholders to meet in convention and agree upon the principles for which the Republican party of this state stands, and select such men for public office as can be relied upon to adhere to those principles, and who will support the Republican party in the state of Wisconsin and in our national congress."

The county gatherings will be held on June 4th and every republican who can subscribe to the above platform is requested to meet in the Rock county court house on that date to select thirty-two delegates to attend the Milwaukee meeting. The apportionment of delegates is the same as that selected for the 1904 Republican state convention which is 11 for the first assembly district, 9 for the second and 12 for the third assembly district—32 in all.

Harry L. Gifford Auxiliary: Members are requested to meet at 11:30 A. M. at the Rock county court house on Monday morning to attend memorial services. Members are also requested to meet at the hall promptly at 8 o'clock Monday morning to assist in the decoration of comrades' graves. Sarah C. Dougherty, Pres.; Paul L. Hill, Secy.

Comet Direct Cause of Death.

Louisa of Savoy, mother of Francis I, was so frightened by the appearance of a comet that she declared it to be a signal for her death. And curiously enough she died three days later under this fatal belief. Coming down to more recent years, one finds that in 1852 people all the world over were frightened of the comet.

There must be a mighty solid basis for the phenomenal success that has followed the E-M-F Company from the very first.

No other automobile concern ever has enjoyed the tremendous success this one has. The whole world knows and all the world is talking about the Company and its cars, constantly. There must be a reason and it must be a good one. Even competitors admit that!

Everywhere E-M-F "30" is first choice of that class of buyers who want all that can be had of efficiency, power, durability and elegance and comfort at a price under $2,000. (E-M-F "30" sells for $1250 fully equipped with five lamps, generator, horn and magneto.)

The farther you seek for the reason for this popularity—for the splendid reputation achieved by this car in so short a time, the more does it appear that after all the car itself is the real reason.

Ten thousand people are daily engaged in selling E-M-F "30" cars—largest sales force and cheapest—for they all work for love. They are satisfied owners.

COMMUNICATION.

That Fond du Lac Contest. To the Editor of The Gazette: I am sending you a few facts about the state declaratory contest held at Fond du Lac last evening. The decision was considered unsatisfactory by the entire audience, as no one who was present considered anyone but Miss Humphrey and Miss Mahoney of Fond du Lac for first place. An Miss Mahoney went forty seconds over time, first place clearly belonged to Miss Humphrey, who received one first place, one second place and one fifth, the last given by a professor of chemistry, who in nearly all cases reversed the opinion of the other judges and the audience. His lack of judgment in declaratory work was evident by his statement that he was not aware that the young lady whom he gave first place mispronounced several words. He marked Miss H. down for lack of spirit when she alone of all contestants, although the audience were requested not to applaud, received an applause which broke forth involuntarily.

THE MATCHLESS CAR

It is evident that the Overland is still unmatched in the features which most men seek. Taking all points together, there is no car to compare with it.

The simplicity, the price, the freedom from trouble, appeal to all men who know. The result is the Overland—one of the newest creations—is now out-selling any other car that is made.

And it is being made better and better. In the factories two of the ablest engineers in the automobile field are employed. And they devote their whole time to devising improvements.

The new machinery gives exactness to the ten-thousandth part of an inch. It makes every part interchangeable.

The various parts of the car, from beginning to end, pass thousands of rigid inspections. And every car, before it goes out, gets the severest sort of a road test.

Overlands are never shipped until the experts agree that the car is in perfect condition. Our whole business is built by each car selling others.

space, still controls them and the right of way is so well established that collisions never happen.

If the things we worry about were seventy-five years apart, like the comet, the most of us would live our allotted time and most of the doctors would be out of business, but the "Must Worry Club" is so attractive that we become charter members and graduate with a diploma before the race is half finished.

It is worth something to have a good credit, and men in business have long since discovered that the bank of confidence is absolutely necessary to success but any kind of a reputation will pass muster when it comes to borrowing trouble.

The people who have money and the people who have none meet on one common plane as trouble borrowers, and the more we borrow the more inexhaustible is the supply.

Diseases of the body are bad enough and some people are compelled to go through life as legitimate sufferers through accident or inherited disease for which they are not responsible, but diseases of the mind are much more common, and the cause of infinitely more suffering than the other class.

The mind influences digestion, upsets the stomach and plays havoc with us in every way. A man has a pain below the belt and at once concludes that he enjoys that popular malady, appendicitis. His fears are confirmed by a physician and soon the "worry" club gets busy. If he wasn't sick before, he soon will be, and then he wonders why the good Lord made a mistake in supplying him with a useless appendix.

He is troubled a good deal as the temperance lecturer was who discussed his effort with his host on the way home from the hall where he had been holding forth.

The friend said to him, "You didn't make it very clear about the wine that was served at the marriage feast."

"Well," said the lecturer, "I didn't care to discuss that very much, for you know I have always thought that the Master made a grave mistake on that occasion."

The most of us would hardly feel warranted in carrying our criticism quite so far. We are content with handling the weather, which is never just right, and which could be improved by any of us if we had a chance.

We not only criticize the weather but we worry about it, and when our stock of worry runs low the supply is readily renewed by consulting Hickey's almanac and admiring the cheerful pictures of storm and flood, until impressed with the notion that a cyclone cellar is of more importance than a guest room in the house.

The worries of life not only destroy happiness and shorten the span of existence but they cause us to live in the shadows when we ought to be out in God's free sunshine. A writer for the Los Angeles Express recently gave away the following secret, which is worth remembering.

Do you want to know the secret of the happiness of life?

Taste the nectar that is flowing in this world of toil and strife?

Would you learn to smile at trouble and to keep your temper sweet?

Then move out of Grouchy Alley and reside on Sunny Street.

You can laugh at every trial, and your ill will fly away;

You can revel in your gladness every hour of the day.

And your heart will echo snatches of the songs your lips repeat.

If you'll move from Grouchy Alley out on happy Sunny Street.

Why be lingering in shadows, when the sunshine, ever fair,

Bids you come out where the blossoms and the bird songs greet the air?

You can walk in paths of pleasure with expectant, eager feet.

If you'll banish Grouchy Alley for the joys of Sunny Street.

So look up and face your trials with a confidence supreme!

Happiness will be your portion—not a vague and misty dream!

You'll experience the fullness of the happy life complete.

Just by leaving Grouchy Alley for the joys of Sunny Street.

PRESS COMMENT.

Do Peep's Comet?

And the next time the comet finds its fall it is to be hoped it will pin it on so it cannot come off again.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Marking Back.

King George V. is a successful stamp collector. Come to think of it King George the III made a failure of collecting American stamps.—Marquette Eagle-Star.

He's From Missouri!

Senator Lorimer's declaration that he has no idea of resigning his seat is not surprising. When a man pays out a lot of good money for a good thing, far be it for him to give it away.—Ashland Press.

Hands Off!

Regardless of who is president the principle that the executive should not interfere with the legislative, is right. This is found in so called measures sought to be forced through congress and state legislatures. Roosevelt may have started the practice, but this does not make it right. For some day a profound trouble will arise from the practice.—Rochester Journal.

How Constant They Are.

Bridgeport denounced the infamous attempt to keep up the tariff on steel and woolens and zinc—all products of other states; but voted for the highest rate on glass, a product of his own Indiana. Doubtless stormed against the robbers who wanted to tax Iowa on glass and zinc but voted loud and clear for a duty on hides (an Iowa product). La Follette scored the loaf trust that had hides to sell, but was silent on Wisconsin zinc. And yet these three, snapping each other's tails, are brothers in insurgency. Truly the tariff should not be in politics.—Madison Journal.

Answered Again.

Has the Milwaukee Journal gone completely crazy? It said yesterday in double-headed type, "If the president of the United States should come in to the state of Wisconsin and urge the people in a general election not to elect this man to congress, to nominate this man for congress, and pass from state to state, and state to state, with all the power of patronage behind him, what would be thought of it, what ought to be thought of it? It would not be tolerated for one moment; it would LIGHT THE TORCH OF REVOLUTION," etc.—

Of course it would, but do you know (you do know) that is exactly what Governor La Follette did. He came or went into county after county and distantly, emphatically called the roll and directed just who should be elected to the assembly and to the state senate. It is this color blindness on the part of his hide-bound followers that make others unwilling to recognize anything that he might do that is for the best. Who, for instance, dictated that Leont should run for governor? Was it the people or La Follette?—Eau Claire Leader.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

BY WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)

"Farewell!" I said, to the friend I loved, and my eyes were filled with tears; "I know you'll come to my heart again, in a low brief, hurried years!" Ah, many come up the garden path, and knock at my cottage door, but the friend I loved when my heart was young, comes back to that heart no more.

"Farewell!" I cried to the gentle bird, whose music had filled the dawn; "you fly away, but you'll sing again, when the winter's snows are gone." Ah, the bright birds away on the apple-boughs, and sing as they sing before; but the bird I loved, with the golden voice, shall sing to my heart no more! "Farewell!" I said to the Thomas Cat, I throw in the gurgling creek, all weighted down with a smothering iron, and a hundredweight of brick. "You'll not come back, I know myself, from the silent, sunless shore!" Then I journeyed home, and that blamed old cat was there by the kitchen door!

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE, '79.

YOUR BOY.

This is a serious talk to parents about the boy—the common, everyday garden variety of boy.

He is a great institution. He is bigger than factory or farm or business, because he has in him the making of a man, and a man is the biggest thing in the universe.

Also the boy may miss being a man and become a mere thing!

Naturally there is a lot of good in your boy. He is inclined to be trustful. He has a very keen sense of justice. And his heart is wide open to the influences that appeal to his pride and manliness. He wants to do his best.

Now, all of this in your boy is fine raw material out of which you may manufacture manliness. But—

If you want to get the most out of him believe in him. Just make believe he will not do. He will find you out.

If you really believe in him he will believe in you, which is your starting point.

And if you really believe in him you will not scold him or find fault with him all the time, because that sort of treatment does not bring out the good in him. It brings out the bad in him.

If you would get at the heart of him cultivate his ambition and foster his natural desire to do his best by encouragement.

Because the boy will grow into the likeness of that which he desires to do and be. If you can stimulate him to do and become the best he will grow into that realization as naturally as the flower comes to its fruition. Even flowers must be encouraged.

Cheer him on!

If his habits have become bad change his surroundings. Association has everything to do with the making and unmaking of a boy. Get him into the right company, change his activities, and the bad habits will disappear by abuse.

Do not do too much for him. You must be careful along this line. If you do too much for him he will do nothing for himself. And that is fatal, because the best way for him to learn to do things is by doing them—by experience.

In short, while the boy is young treat him very firmly, but very kindly and very justly—remember, very justly.

As he grows older appeal to his natural pride to get on in the world. Get his confidence and hold on to it. Stimulate his ambition by encouragement. Keep him in the right company.

Common advice? Yes, but many a parent is trying to force his boy or neglect him or scold him into manliness. It cannot be done.

Don't Forget To Ring Off

Many people will telephone, and when finished walk away without ringing off. Central has no way of knowing that you are finished unless you ring off, or unless she "cuts in" and listens to see if you are finished.

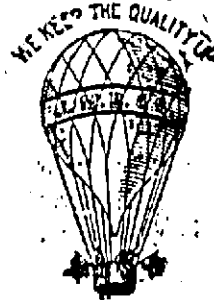

Your line won't be busy as long and you will be able to get central quicker if you will RING OFF when finished.

You can have a Rock County phone in your home for $1.00 per month.

Decoration Day

Of all the holidays in the year it seems particularly fitting to close places of business on Decoration Day.

This is a busy world, time flies, the tide flows on, one thing chases another so fast that we are apt to enjoy our benefits to the full but are too prone to forget the sacrifice that preceded the happiness. The G. A. R. should be remembered. Our store will be closed for the day.

Flowers For Decoration Day

SECOND HONORS WON LAST NIGHT

BY JANESVILLE SPEAKERS IN TWO STATE CONTESTS.

MISS RUTH HUMPHREY WAS

Given Second Place in Declamatory Contest at Fond du Lac and George Yahn Second in Oratorical Contest Here.

Second place in two speaking contests for state honors was the good fortune which befell representatives of the Janesville high school last evening. Miss Ruth Humphrey was second in the girls' declamatory contest at Fond du Lac, and George Yahn, who spoke at the oratorical contest held at the high school building in this city, won second place, being a close second to Joe Glassner of Marshfield, who was given first honors. The latter contest was so close that the position, which should have been given to the winner, was secured by a vote of the judges. The declamatory contest at Fond du Lac, Sheboygan finishing third. Third place in the oratorical contest was secured by Jay C. Truesdell of River Falls.

Banquet for Speaker.
Both young people have won distinct honors for the school, and have established a precedent difficult to follow. But one other declamatory speaker, Miss Emma Schoemaker, has been able to win second place in the state contest, and never before in the history of the school has one of their orators contested with other state high school orators. They are to be feted by the students at a banquet to be given by the Sophomore and Junior classes on Saturday evening next.

Oratorical Contest.
The contest was very interesting, although the crowd which was present was considerably smaller than that at the Rock county league contest. The distance of the cities from which the speakers came preventing them from bringing with them more than one or two friends, generally members of the faculty. Out of the state speakers, Sam Patok of Ironwood, Mich., was present, being the winner in a district contest made up of Northern Wisconsin schools. Other schools whose orators took part besides those already mentioned, were La Crosse, Coish, Sheboygan and Antigo.

The Program.
The first speaker was Joe Glassner of Marshfield, who was the winner. The subject of his oration was "Gratuitous Injustice Against Cary." From a fiery declamatory speech delivered in the English parliament, George Yahn followed him with the oration with which he won the league and district contests, "The Empire Builder." Yahn's delivery last evening was almost perfect and his style exceeded that exhibited in previous contests. Third in order on the program was Irving Tuteur of La Crosse, who spoke on "Jean Valjean and the Bishop." As a declamatory piece was splendidly given, but it hardly met the requirements of an oratory contest. "Abraham Lincoln," a eulogy of the "greatest American," was well presented by Harry Shupiro of Sheboygan, and Harold Bachman's delivery of "The March of the Flag," which resembled a political speech, was very good, although the young man seemed to be troubled with a cold. The tribute to the San Domingan negro emigrant, Toussaint L'Ouverture in a selection bearing the same title was the oration given by Sam Patok of Ironwood. He has a good voice, reinforced by proper gestures. Favoring the abolition of the saloon was the speech of Curtis G. Callow of Cobb, on "The Court of Last Appeal," holding the interest of the audience the entire time that he spoke. Jay C. Truesdell of River Falls showed ability in his oration, "On the Boston Massacre."

Judges of Contest.
State Senator John M. Whitehead presided at the contest and announced the decision of the judges. The high school orchestra rendered the opening and closing numbers of the program, two pleasing selections—"The Mator March" and the overture, "The Wayside Chapel." The judges of the contest, selected by Prof. C. C. Shultz of the Whitewater Normal school, were: Prof. H. L. Lyman and Prof. Scott H. Goodright of Madison, Prof. H. D. Douglass of Beloit, Prof. C. H. Boush and Rev. W. L. Lewis of Whitewater. Principal J. C. Pearson of Beloit kept the record of the three each contestant took in delivering his oration.

The Reception.
After the contest, the speakers, judges, visiting faculty and others who took part in the program last evening, including the members of the high school orchestra, were the guests at an informal reception held in the auditorium. Light refreshments were served, several of the young ladies of the Senior class acting as waitresses.

H. S. M'GIFFIN TO LEAVE JANESVILLE

Will Take Charge of American Cigar Co.'s Business at Madison on July the First.

H. S. McGiffin of the leaf tobacco firm of McGiffin & Birkmeyer, 120 North Academy street, will succeed Mr. Gorman as manager of the American Cigar Co.'s business at Madison on July 1. Mr. Gorman will be sent to look after the firm's interests on the island of Porto Rico.

Important changes in methods have been adopted by the corporation in order, it is believed, to avoid legal entanglements. The Wisconsin branches have heretofore been directed by a state manager from a central office at Madison. This office has been abolished and in the future each branch will be conducted as an independent business, the man in charge being given full authority to employ his own buyers and assistants, buy in any territory he chooses, and use his own judgment in every matter pertaining to its operations.

PROGRAM FOR THE SERVICES MONDAY

EXERCISES WILL BE HELD IN THE MEYERS THEATRE IN AFTERNOON.

DECORATE GRAVES, MORNING

Veterans, Members of the W. R. C., Spanish War Veterans and Their Auxiliary To Go To the Cemetery in The Morning.

On Monday, Decoration day, set aside by the national government, by the Governors of the different northern States, as a legal holiday, in memory of the departed soldiers and sailors of the late rebellion, who in the Sixties went out at the call of the President to keep this nation one and united, the William H. Sargent Post No. 20 of the Grand Army of the Republic will hold special exercises to commemorate the day.

At eight o'clock in the morning the members of the Post will assemble in their hall at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, reinforced by the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Harry L. Gifford Camp 23 of the United Spanish War Veterans and their Ladies Auxiliary, and will proceed to the cemetery where the graves of the dead comrades will be decorated with flowers and flags. Mr. H. H. Dahlwin is officer of the day. Many residents of Janesville who own automobiles have offered their cars for the carrying of the veterans to and from the cemetery. Those who have offered their cars for this purpose and others who are willing to be of service will be at the corner of Main and Milwaukee Street at eight o'clock. The trip out and back should not take much over an hour and is an especially fitting tribute on the part of the younger generation to the old soldiers.

At ten o'clock in the afternoon the regular Post memorial services will be held in the Myers Theatre to which the public are invited. J. P. Curie will preside and the following program will be given.

Music by the Drum Corps.
Prayer by Rev. T. D. Williams.
Cargill M. E. Church.
President's Introductory Remarks.
Memorial Day Song, E. O. Kimberley.

BIG EAGLE PICNIC SET FOR TOMORROW

Athletic Contests Promise Much Excitement and A Large Attendance Expected.

Much interest has been aroused in the athletic events planned for the big Eagle Picnic to be held tomorrow at Cold Spring Park. Two of the events at hand, the baseball game between two teams representing the Eagle and Moose Lodges of the city and the tug of war in which teams from both lodges will participate, are expected to arouse much excitement. Both orders have been on a still hunt to secure the best baseball talent in the city and the rivalry has grown keen enough to warrant the assertion that the contest will generate as much enthusiasm as a big league contest. Practically every launch in the city has been engaged for the day to take all those who will attend to the grounds and a big attendance from both lodges as well as others from the city is expected.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

All the Photograph Studios will be closed on Sunday after May 29th. Those wishing pictures made remember above date.

The ladies of the W. H. Sargent W. R. C. No. 21 are requested to meet at G. A. R. hall Sunday morning to attend services at Congregational church. All visiting members in the city are invited to join in these services.

Regular meeting of the W. R. C. No. 2 at W. V. Veteran hall Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The members of Harry L. Gifford Camp, ex-soldiers and sailors of the Spanish-American war are cordially invited to meet at Spanish War Veterans hall Sunday morning at 10 o'clock to attend Memorial services at the Congregational church, and at 8 o'clock Monday morning to take part in decorating comrades' graves. Jesse M. Dixon, Commander. C. A. Buchholz, Adj.

UNLOCKED SWITCH CAUSED BAD WRECK

Switch Shanty Demolished, One Car Wrecked and Four Others Derailed on St. Paul This Morning.

Careless work by a brakeman, supposedly on train 166, southbound from Madison, in neglecting to lock the switch on the main track near the North Jackson street crossing, resulted in a bad wreck early this morning on the St. Paul road in which the elevated shanty of the crossing tender was hurled across the street and completely demolished, one box car stripped clean from the trucks and five others derailed, two of them being turned over on their sides while a strip of track sixty feet long was damaged. Had the shanty been occupied at the time, the wreck would have resulted fatally, but as it was, no one was injured.

The wrecked train, which was in charge of Conductor O. Lloyd and Engineer G. W. Allen, is known as the dog-run and makes several trips between this city and Milton during the evening. Returning from the third trip at three o'clock, and while going at a good speed, the train struck the switch, which was not locked. The arm flew over, derailing several of the cars and one of them, heavily loaded with lumber, caught the twelve by twelve supports of the shanty, snapped them off like pipe-stems and left the entire mass in kindling wood on the west side of the street.

In addition to wrecking the shanty, the lumber car that did the work was stripped clean from the trucks, two others thrown over on the side, three more derailed and a long strip of track damaged. The wrecking crew was immediately called and had the tracks clear and in shape by half past nine.

It is believed that one of the brakemen on train 166, a time freight from Madison, which passed through just before three o'clock, threw the switch but neglected to lock it. The switch is of an old pattern, and, if not locked, will spring back when a train passes over it.

ROAD REPORTED TO HAVE TAKEN ACTION

Member of Switchmen's Committee Stated Today That Local Yards Have Been Made First Class.

According to a statement made by one of the Janesville switchmen who is a member of the committee which has been in Chicago for some time past, the North-Western has made or is on the verge of making the local yards first class. Should this be done, the St. Paul yards will undoubtedly be made first class also.

This move, which has been rumored for some time, comes as a result of a long fight made by the members of the union in this city and while it will mean no increase in the amount of work done, will result in a substantial increase in wages. Recently the switchmen, through the work of the national organization, were granted an increase of three cents an hour, amounting to between ten and twelve dollars a month, according to the work done, and the making of the local yards first class, will result in another increase equal in amount to that already granted.

About six years ago, the switchmen on the St. Paul waged a similar fight and gained their point only to find when the St. Paul officials found that the North-Western would not take similar action. That the yards have been made first class seems to be the

Some Pertinent Tire Facts of Interest to Automobile Owners

THERE seems to be a wide spread idea among automobile owners that it does not pay to have an old tire retreaded or rebuilt.

They say, "Why should I pay $12.00 or $15.00 for a retreaded 30x3 1/2 case when I can get a new one for $30.00?" That is good enough as far as it goes, but, Mr. Owner, are you sure of getting your guaranteed mileage out of that case? If you cut it or run it flat you cannot expect the tire company to replace it and you are $30.00 out. To be sure, every company guarantees its tire against defects for 3500 miles but none of the leading manufacturers has to replace more than 2 to 3 per cent of its output. That does not mean that only that many give full mileage. Not more than 10 per cent of the tires sent in for replacement are allowed. The tire companies may not admit this, but it is so and very few companies refuse a just claim for replacement.

What Does Your Money Earn?

Now, to go back, Mr. Owner. Where is your money earning you the most, in the bank or in a tire? Taking the same tire, 30x3 1/2, for example: we will retread it for you for $12.00. Now it would cost you at least $30.00 and it is guaranteed 3500 miles. Our retread costs you but $12.00 and is guaranteed for 1400 miles. If you get a puncture while out in a rainstorm and run in on a flat tire you only lose $14.00 on a retread. If you have a new one you stand to lose $30.00.

It's up to you, Mr. Owner. Where is that $18.00 difference doing you the most good? Tied up in a tire or in the bank drawing interest?

We guarantee our work according to price and figures the same as the guarantee on a new tire and you have the balance of the price of a new tire earning the money for another job.

And That's Not All.

Mr. Owner, suppose you have a tire go wrong and you send it into the factory for an adjustment. How long do you have to wait before finding whether you will ever get a replacement or not? It's safe to say it will be a month before you get satisfaction.

We are here, not in Akron, New York or Germany. Bring your tire back to us if you are not satisfied. We will tell you in ten minutes whether it is your fault or ours. You can get more genuine satisfaction out of a ten-minute talk than a month's correspondence.

And Furthermore

If the job is not right we'll make it right. We've got to do so to hold our trade.

If you have ruined it through a lack of the proper care we will explain to you how to avoid the same thing again.

It's up to you, Mr. Owner. Which is the better to tie your money up in—tires or real estate? To wait for a month to get an adjustment or get it at once?

Call and see us and get our prices on other sizes and jobs. We will give you some more facts in our next ad.

The Hoosier Special Kitchen Cabinet

Saves Time

Saves Steps

THE HOOSIER SPECIAL

Is the greatest step-saving and time-saving device ever invented for the kitchen. It is in use three times a day, year in year out. It saves all unnecessary steps.

With the Hoosier Special in your kitchen you have everything at your fingers' ends. When closed it is compact and takes no more room than would an ordinary kitchen table.

This cabinet contains space for all articles used in the kitchen, put together in a neat, compact, sanitary manner. It has a flour bin with a capacity of 60 pounds, self cleaning and sanitary; with detachable flour sifter. Sugar bin—metal. Holds 20 pounds. Self cleaning and sanitary. A want list that reminds you of your daily needs, no writing. A bread and cake box—all metal—mouse proof—easily cleaned. Two compartment drawers for cutlery—handy location. A rolling pin rest—permits thorough ventilation. A sliding shelf which makes it easy to get pots and pans. A roomy cupboard for pots and pans. A pie pan rack which brings pans to your fingers' ends. A cupboard for cereals and kitchen dishes. A sliding aluminum top adds one-third to table space. Spice cans of crystal glass are air-tight. Tea and coffee canisters of crystal glass—air tight. A drawer for folded table linen, napkins and towels. There is nothing lacking.

The flour comes out of a sifter; the sugar bin is dust proof, the spice cans and tea and coffee cans are air tight; the metal bread and cake box is mouse proof, and the aluminum extension table top is roomy and easy to keep clean, all of which go to make the Hoosier absolutely sanitary.

The Hoosier is all made of solid oak—the only wood that will not warp in the heat of the kitchen.

The Hoosier is the best of all kitchen cabinets. You will have no other, once you see the Hoosier. See them in our window; step inside, and we will explain the numerous time-saving uses to which they may be put. They are here exclusively.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

Dr. Johnson, in his "Rasselas," pointing out the fact that "Some desire is necessary to keep life in motion, and he whose real wants are supplied must admit those of fancy," has thrown a healing ray of light on many a man's unhappiness. It is certain that, with the majority of us, our real wants are immeasurably fewer in number than our fancied ones, yet the human mind is so inclined that the struggle for the unnecessary is almost universally stronger and more varied and vital in its forms than for the necessary. Great crimes are committed not for comfort, but for surplus; a fancied need of whisky has been productive of more violence and thievery than can be laid to real hunger; more hopes have been centered upon fine apparel than comfortable and decent raiment ever aroused. And the more frivolous the mind the more the fever for luxuries usurps the place of desire for the needful. As Lowell says, "The highest outcome of culture is simplicity." It should mean much to any of us to know that in all probability the things that we most long and strive for are not necessary at all, and seem so desirable merely because our real wants, the wants which alone are enough to make us happy in their gratification, are already satisfied. No man can be poor but he would be rich.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

I WENT in town with a very original young friend of mine the other day, and had the pleasure of seeing one of her very original ideas put into practice.

She is one of those fortunate people who are pretty enough to be able to be original without being called a freak. Yet when a young man opposite us rose to give an elderly woman a seat, I was astonished to see my young friend smile at him benignly with a beautiful display of her very charming dimples.

"Some one you know?" I queried, somewhat surprised as he didn't seem to be lifting his hat.

"Oh, no," she responded, calmly. "You see, I think that when a man does a kind thing like that, every woman in the car ought to show her approval by smiling at him, so I always do."

Original and quixotic, yes; but absurd? Well, I certainly don't think so.

"If you don't get the reading aloud habit, you miss one of the most unfulfilling sources of happiness in married life."

That is the dictum of a very happy middle-aged couple, whom I know, who in the course of their twenty-five years of married life have read aloud to each other over four hundred books, besides innumerable magazines and short stories.

"Of course you don't get along quite so fast as if you read to yourself," they told me, "but it's so nice to meet all those book people together."

"Henry is away all day," supplemented his wife, "meeting people that I don't know, and when he comes home I don't want him to go off and meet more people without me, even if it's only in book land."

"And you know I wouldn't want to," added Henry gallantly. "So we go together," they finished in unison.

Reading aloud—not necessarily classical or instructive things, but any good novels—certainly is one of the best habits any pair of newlyweds can acquire.

Not every evening or even every other evening, of course, but two or three a week can be pleasantly employed in this way.

If you haven't read the older works, try some of the most interesting, such as Vanity Fair, Peverell, Lew Misericord, or some of the best of Scott or Dickens.

Your journeys together into book lands, your meeting and discussion of the people there, will be one more bond of interest between you.

And in these days when one marriage in ten ends in divorce, you surely can't afford to neglect any bond of interest that will help to make yours one of the nine.

Want to know how to become a fairy prince or princess for a few minutes? Then always keep your pockets well supplied with pennies, and occasionally when you see a youngster hanging on a gate, or sitting on the curb, or trotting along the street, who looks as if he could spend a penny, offer him one.

Thereupon to the owner of the moist little palm that closes over your gift, you straightway become the fairy prince or princess dropped straight from fairyland to present that unexpected bounty.

As you pass on, look back and you shall see the youngster gazing at you with awe and ecstatic orbs that reflect you in truly heroic size.

Great sensation, truly.

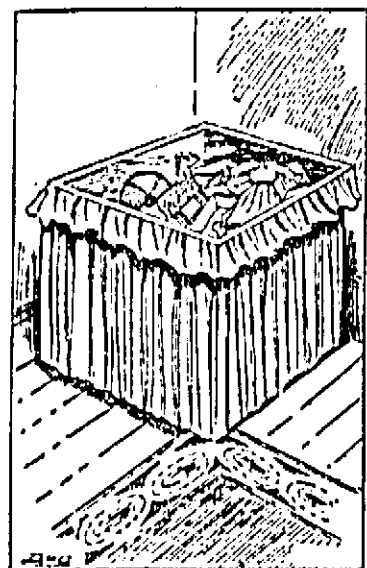

If you don't believe me, try it and see.

Ruth Cameron

For the Nursery.

No one knows better or will more appreciate the suggestion illustrated than the unfortunate person to whose lot it generally falls to "tidy up" the nursery after it has been in possession of the little ones for a lengthy period. It is always an excellent thing to install tidily habits into the children, and to appropriate a place in the nursery in which they can deposit all their litter after they have amused themselves, is a plan which is well worth carrying out.

One of the best ways of doing this is to procure a good sized packing case

and place it in the extreme corner of the room. The two outer sides may be easily draped with some pretty remnant of cretonne, which can be tucked on to the upper edge of the box. The material should be folded over at the top to form a bounce, and from underneath this bounce plaits of the material are arranged to reach the ground and entirely hide the exterior of the box. The box can, of course, be periodically emptied, and a corner of the nursery cannot be better utilized than in this manner. The little ones should always be made to clear up all their rubbish after they have done playing, and if there is something at hand to which it may be placed they will not mind doing this, and it will save other people the trouble. The interior of the box may be lined with brown paper, either tacked or pasted to the sides.

The American Vocabulary.

The Americans of the lowest intellectual class probably use more words to express their ideas than the similar class of any other people; but this prodigality of words is partially balanced by the parsimony of words in some higher regions, in which a few phrases of current slang are made to do the whole duty of exchange of ideas; if that can be called exchange of ideas when one intellect flashes forth to another the remark, concerning some report that "you know how it is yourself," and is met by the response of "that's what the matter," and rejoins with the perfectly conclusive "that's so." It requires a high degree of culture to use slang with elegance and effect; and we are yet very far from Greek attainment.—Charles Dudley Warner.

Legend Proved True.

A curious legend surrounding a country estate in the Moon valley, Hampshire, which has been fulfilled with painful reality, has set the whole country-side talking. The story concerns the death at Corhampton house, Corhampton, of Mr. Campbell-Wyndham, J. P., who on the death of his mother on September 8, last year, succeeded to an estate around which a legend runs that a male heir will not live over 12 months after succession. Mr. Campbell-Wyndham was the first male heir for generations. In the last stages of his illness, Mr. Wyndham prophesied that he would die in but 12 months to the day his mother passed away, and by a truly remarkable coincidence, he died a few minutes after midnight on that very day.—London Mail.

A VERY SMART MODEL FROM PARIS.

This blouse would command attention wherever worn, both because of the past season has shown—have striking cuffs. This blouse is entirely made by hand, and every detail is infinitely fine. Laundering would be disastrous to such a model and only a dry cleaning should be used to its style and coloring—the fine white French batiste being combined with Valenciennes lace in a creamy tone that verges on the ecru. The pleated face jabot, set under overlapping tabs of the batiste, is particularly smart, and the sleeves—rather wider than a dry cleaning should be used to

FLOWER TRIMMED HAT FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS.

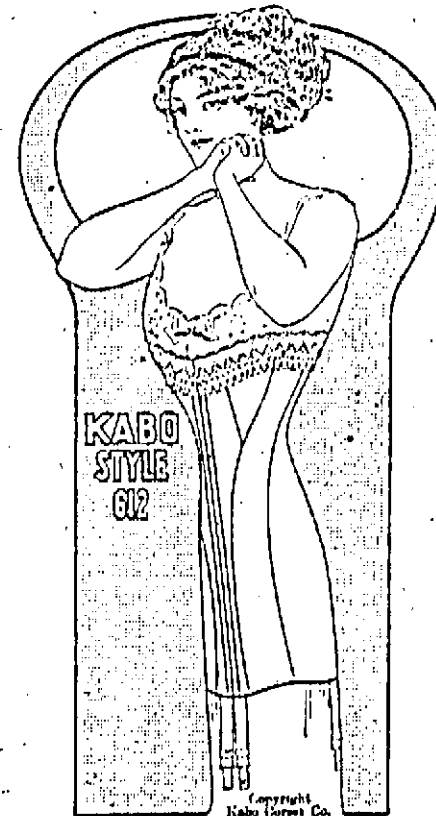

Though this beautiful hat could by no means pass muster in a stern analysis of correct business attire, it is really simple in style and would be quite allowable on the business day that precedes an afternoon or evening festivity. The hat, which is one of the charming Gage models for mid-summer wear, is of leghorn and has a lining of black satin, which makes a dark frame for the dainty rose trimmings. The little roses, in delectable shades of pink, are sewed all over the net crown and extend down over the brim in points, green leaves being laid between roses and straw trim. A band of roses sewed to black velvet passes under the lark at the back.

High Title Denied Washington.

A friend calls attention to the fact that Washington, although commander in chief during the Revolution and again in 1798 during the French war, which did not really happen, did not bear the title of full general. On July 2, 1798, President Adams nominated him "to be Lieutenant-General and commander in chief." This was followed by the act of March 2, 1798, of which the ninth section read "that a commander of the army of the United States shall be appointed, and commissioned by the style of 'general of the armies of the United States,' and that the present office and title of Lieutenant-General shall thereafter be abolished." President Adams, jealous for the executive prerogative as commander in chief, made no appointment under this act and Washington died as Lieutenant-General.

Family Heirlooms at Maine Fairs.

The Maine town fairs are great places to see family heirlooms which have been handed down from generation to generation without suffering wear or change. Among the curious old pieces shown at Green fair were a blue spread 150 years old, done by an ancestor of Mrs. Melville Storer; a towel woven by one of Burgoyne's soldiers while a captive in the revolution, a curious "pitchpipe" of wood used by Solomon Jackson while charlatan in a Whitthrop church, in 1800, and old iron dishes shown by Mrs. Ann L. Fogg. Then there were Mrs. Fred B. Parker's "pumpkin hood," old fashioned straw bonnet, and home woven articles, and much pewter ware belonging to Aunt Polly Sawyer. A bedspread, 125 years old, made by Mrs. Dorcas Dearborn was shown by Augusta Baggett, who also had a hand carved hatchet for combing hair.

Newbro's Herpicide Delights the Ladies

Because they know from experience that the intelligent use of Herpicide means much to their personal appearance. It saves and beautifies the hair and in the vast majority of cases, adds greatly to its abundance.

The presence of the dandruff germ in the scalp destroys the gloss and beauty of the hair, even before the resulting disease becomes firmly established.

Each day that the use of Newbro's Herpicide is put off, makes the repair that much more difficult.

Save your hair while you have hair to save.

The intelligent use of Herpicide proves its actual worth.

"I am delighted with Herpicide. I have never used a remedy that gives such marvelous results. The effect on my son's head is magical and he had a very persistent case of dandruff." (Signed) MRS. J. L. MOORE, Piquette, Ohio.

"I must tell you that your remedy for the hair is working like a charm and I am very much pleased with it. The itching has stopped and new hair is growing. I heartily recommend it to all my friends." (Signed) MRS. J. KINNEY, New Haven, Conn.

"I can say from experience that Newbro's Herpicide is the most wonderful hair grower and dandruff eradicator that was ever made. I have used it for some time and can truthfully say that I am greatly pleased with it. I cheerfully recommend it as a splendid preparation." (Signed) MRS. D. E. DYST, Cottage Grove, Oregon.

"It gives me great pleasure to add my commendation of Newbro's Herpicide to the list of our family has used your remedy with very satisfactory results." (Signed) MISS A. E. CARUTHERS, Tampa, Florida.

"Newbro's Herpicide is certainly the best remedy for dandruff and itching scalp I ever used. I have told several persons about your preparation and will tell every one I have an opportunity to. I can not praise Herpicide enough for what it has done for me." (Signed) MRS. A. FLEWELLER, Shiner, Texas.

Over Disputed Width of Main Street
—Meeting of Village Board Held Last Night.

Orfordville is in a ferment over the disputed width of a road and the people are rapidly lining up in two hostile camps. The village board has called for an opinion from its attorney, John L. Fisher, and met last night to listen to the reading of the written document he has filed.

Postmaster Charles Taylor has given the credit for starting the war when, after petitioning for a grade for a sidewalk and ascertaining that it was going to be located about a rod "inland," he is alleged to have had gravel hailed in the night-time to the spot he had selected as the proper place for it and commenced construction work on the old line at five o'clock in the morning.

The highway in question was held out northward from the Beloit and Madison road as early as 1849, in what was then the town of Spring Valley, for a distance of some two or more miles. But the original records were lost. However, what purport to be certified copies of the records are in existence and it is said that they show that this road called Main street was originally four rods wide throughout. Now it is four rods wide only from the intersection of the Beloit and Madison highway to Church street. Beyond the latter intersection the width is three rods.

In the early days the road was only a sort of a trail but subsequently, it is claimed, the people on the east side built fences two rods from the center line and those on the west side, at a distance of one rod from the center.
The Norwegian church is on the east side. Homes on the west side are, in some instances, within a rod of the road. If the line should be pushed off a part of Mr. Taylor's front porch.
Mr. Taylor has consulted with Attorneys Nolan and Matheson and they have advised him, it is claimed, that the line must remain just where it is, while there is an appeal from the Bellevue & Jefferson case far back as 1906 to the effect that the four rods width can be insisted upon.

Those who support the latter contention aver that the statutes of 1849 made it obligatory upon town supervisors, when constructing public roads, to make them four rods wide. This law was subsequently changed so as to permit three rod roads. When the property alongside this particular highway was fenced in and trees set out in the '60's the property owners appear to have taken it for granted that the road across the prairie was to be three rods wide.
Neighbors of Mr. Taylor started to follow his lead in the matter of walk construction but the village board, after a meeting held to consider the matter, warned them to desist, and the warning was heeded.
At the meeting of the board last evening a decision was reached to insist upon the four rod road and a surveyor will be retained at once to lay it out.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE].

Janesville, May 27.—In a game played here today the high school baseball team defeated the high school team of Oregon by a score of 8 to 4. The game was a good one but closed at the seventh inning in order to make it possible for the Oregon boys to take the early train home.

Herman Tucker and family went to Chicago last night for a visit to relatives. He will return the first of the week. Mr. Tucker and children will remain two weeks longer.
A. E. Durner and family and Mrs.
Will Smith rode to Janesville yesterday afternoon in the Durner auto.

kee the first of the week to attend
the graduating exercises of Marquette University.

Miss Ethel Hume who is in Madison attending business college, is expected home tonight to spend Saturday and Sunday with her parents. She will bring with her two classmates, the Misses Grace Hammond of Richland Center and Violet Ling of Prairie du Chien who will be her guests until Monday when she will accompany them to Janesville for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Horne were called to Janesville yesterday by the death of his brother, Charles H.
Horne. Mr. Horne formerly lived here and word of his death came as a great shock to his many friends.

M. F. Howland and two daughters of Oxford, Michigan, have been spending a few days at the home of his brother, W. W. Howland.

Arthur Spaulding of Stoughton was a business visitor here yesterday.
Miss Zettie Kieb is expected from Milwaukee tonight for a brief visit with Janesville friends.

RATE PROTESTS POURING IN.

Middle West Appeals to Congressmen

Against Increases.

Washington, May 28.—A flood of telegrams reached the house protesting against the proposed increases in railroad rates which have been announced to become effective on June
1. Nearly every member from Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and other states in the middle west was told in the dispatches that the proposed raises would prove a great hardship to consumers by increasing the cost of living and that business would be seriously injured.

One of the telegrams stated that a delegation representing the entire middle west would arrive in Washington on May 30 to bring the matter to the attention of the department of justice and endeavor to prevent the proposed advances from taking effect.

Grandmother Forgets to Append Three

Ciphers in Her Will.

Milwaukee, May 28.—Because Mrs.
Margaret Ails, widow of the founder of the Ails-Chalmers company, forgot to append three ciphers to the bequests to her four grandchildren, these four children, Margaret W. A.
Norris of Louisville, Edward Phelps Ails III and William Phelps Ails of Montone, France, and Maude A. Conway of Milwaukee will have to be satisfied with $25 instead of $25,000.
Judge Karol ruled that although the intent to leave the children $25,000 each was plain, the court could not go back of the fact that the will itself says "$25."

New York, May 28.—Willie Lewis, candidate for the welter weight championship, was no match for Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion, and was knocked out in the second round. The Lewis lad, who is just back from a conquest of foreign shores, was showed up to a disadvantage by his more experienced opponent and was outclassed from the very start.

DO YOU ENJOY NATURAL SCENIC BEAUTY?

Seems foolish to ask. Maybe you don't know it, but up the river will be found some wonderful scenic beauty.
Some places are of such noticeable grandeur that it has been seen fit to name them: The Devil's Staircase; The Bear's Cave; The Colored Rocks; The Big Hills, and many others. To properly view this scenery a good boat is the first requisite. Our boats are always in first class condition under guidance of experienced and capable drivers.
Our rates are not high and as for service, rendered we leave it to you on your return—if it is not the best, boats will be held on orders received in advance.

Should you desire an early Sunday morning fishing trip you can obtain boats and minnows here at any hour.
Auto delivery in connection offers unlimited possibilities for outings and social good times. To professional and business men who wish to make short business trips when time is at a premium this service is particularly adaptable. Charges reasonable. Service effective day or night.

Fundamental.

Of the many lawful English words that are misused in Wall street, none is more strained than the word "fundamental." One man says the funda-mentals are all right, and he cares about nothing else; another retorts that the fundamentals are all wrong, and neither knows what the other means. Neither knows exactly what he means himself.

BALLINGER PLAYED; A PEPPERY ATTACK

BRANDEIS BRANDS SECRETARY
AS FAITHLESS—VERTREES PRAISES HIM.

CALLS INTERIOR HEAD UNFIT

Garfield and Pinchot Held Up to Public Scorn—Glavis and Kerby Extolled as Courageous Youths Loyal to Government.

Washington, May 28.—The closing arguments before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee were begun under unlimited license and afforded the lawyers an opportunity to praise or attack the principal characters in the case.

Against Ballinger was arranged Attorney Brandeis and Pepper, and they made savage onslaughts on the secretary of the interior.

Vertrees Scores Pinchot.

Attorney Vertrees, representing Mr. Ballinger, poured volley after volley of scathing invective into Pinchot, Garfield, Glavis and others, accusing them of conspiring to besmirch the character of the cabinet officer. He also recalled the newspaper reporters who have been reporting the trial. He had not concluded his closing argument when the committee adjourned.

Calta Ballinger Unfit.

Opening his argument as soon as the committee met, Mr. Brandeis at once called into Mr. Ballinger.

"His constant yielding under pressure makes him unfit for the office of secretary of the interior," exclaimed Brandeis. "He lacks that quality of resolution which was so essential for a man in his position, and that the only time there was ever any doubt as to what action he would take was when there was pressure from both sides."

After criticizing Mr. Ballinger's actions in the Cunningham case, Mr. Brandeis asked the committee "If such a man is a safe trustee for the people's property." He said it had been conclusively established that Ballinger was not a man so devoted to the interests of the people and so resolute in resisting the aggressions of special interests that he might be safely relied upon to carry on the broad policy of the conservation of our natural resources.

Extols Glavis and Kerby.

Brandeis referred sarcastically to Ballinger's "assumed inability to remember" when on the witness stand, and he charged that Ballinger intentionally evaded his questions. He denounced the discharge of Glavis without an opportunity to be heard on the charges preferred against him.

He extolled Glavis and Stenographer Kerby as "two courageous youths men who had refused to be disloyal to their government as the price of loyalty to their superior." He said they should have the admiration, instead of the condemnation, of the American people.

Faithless, Says Pinchot Man.

Mr. Pepper, counsel for former Secretary Pinchot, charged that the course pursued by Secretary Ballinger had been characterized by lack of fidelity to the public interest, that Ballinger was actually responsible for the "entire series of unhappy events" and that the president had been deceived as to the real significance of what was happening in the department.

THREE CONFESS SUGAR FRAUDS.

Helges Co-Defendants Plead Guilty in New York Trial.

New York, May 28.—The long series of surprises in the sugar underweighing conspiracy trial culminated in the sudden closing of the prosecution's case and the entering of pleas of guilty by three of the men on trial. These three were follow employees of the four checkers convicted last winter for complicity in the frauds of the Williamson dock of the American Sugar Refining company.

Counsel for the three men who had decided to give up the fight—Harry W. Walker, assistant dock superintendent, and Jean F. Voelker and James Halligan, Jr., checkers—withdraw their plea of not guilty as soon as the government, after introducing such new testimony, announced that it closed its case. Sentence will be passed upon them later.

Drops Prussian Ballot Bill.

Berlin, May 28.—The government abandoned its efforts to secure the enactment of the Prussian franchise bill, popular opposition to which has been expressed in frequent mass meetings during some of which the protesters have clashed with the police.

INQUIRE INTO I. C. REBATES.

Federal Probe Into Charges of Discrimination to Begin.

Chicago, May 28.—As a result of nearly two years' delay into the operations of the Illinois Central Railroad company by secret service men under the direction of the attorney general at Washington, it was learned that a federal grand jury investigation of the road will be started next week to follow up charges of discrimination in freight tariffs.

Hundreds of books and records, it is said, have been taken from the general offices of the Illinois Central and are now in possession of the government for use by the grand jury. A number of witnesses are understood to have been summoned.

Numerous charges of discrimination made by Edward G. Davies, a commission merchant, prompted the interstate commerce commission to call the attention of the attorney general to the matter.

PROF. KOCH DEAD IN GERMANY.

Discoverer of Tuberculosis Bacilli Succumbs to Heart Disease.

Baden Baden, May 28.—Prof. Robert Koch, the famous bacteriologist, died at Baden Baden from a disease of the heart. He was born at Klausthal, Hanover, December 11, 1843.

Professor Koch became distinguished as an investigator of microorganisms, but probably gained most renown as the discoverer of the bacilli of tuberculosis and cholera.

Pays to Keep Secret.

Lincoln, Neb., May 28.—Miss Sarah E. Peck, indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge that she had wilfully refused to give her age to the census enumerator, was fined ten dollars. Her age has not yet been made public.

Dolliver Plan Lost.

Washington, May 28.—The Dolliver amendment to the railroad bill to provide for federal regulation of the issuance of railroad securities, so as to prevent overcapitalization, was defeated in the senate 19 to 47.

Bishop's Aid Decided On.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28.—The Episcopal diocesan convention voted for the appointment of a coadjutor bishop to aid Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle.

Nutritious Bread.

With raisins in a loaf of bread made from some strong glutinous wheat flour, such as durum flour, you get a nourishing food combination of protein and carbohydrate that is all but ideal. You could support life indefinitely and perfectly upon raisin bread made from a flour rich in gluten. A laborer could perform the hardest kind of muscular work on raisin bread alone.

PURE SWEET MILK

PASTEURIZED

Every growing and thriving business has its reasons for being successful. Invariably these reasons are founded upon the merits of the product sold, and a sincere interest in the patrons and public at large.

The Janesville Pure Milk Co., is building and growing on just such a foundation, and there is a great future ahead. Already more than 50 per cent of Janesville's homes are supplied with our Pasteurized milk, and there is every provision made for increasing patronage.

Cleanliness in Handling

Of our milk is on the same standard that is used by all milk dealers handling the best class trade in this country. If we didn't closely follow this policy, our large patronage among the families of Janesville that appreciate purity and quality in milk, would not be increasing.

In the first place, all our milk comes from well kept healthy herds of milk producing cows. Cows of this class must necessarily be of good breeds and kept in perfect healthy condition, or we will not accept the milk under any consideration. When the milk is delivered at our station in the morning, it is strained and run through the Pasteurizer. After going through the pasteurizing process, which removes and destroys all harmful germs, which raw milk usually contains, it is run into the bottling machine where a dozen bottles are filled at a time, and immediately sealed without the slightest possibility of anything but the clean pure milk getting into them.

Just a word might be said about the modern way we sterilize our bottles. Recently we installed a large mechanical bottle cleaner.

The bottles are put into cases and run through this machine in an inverted position. Clean water and live steam is forced into them, rinsing and scalding out every particle and trace of milk, leaving the bottles perfectly clean and sanitary.

Cleanliness in Delivery

Everybody in the city knows our milk wagons at a distance. They bespeak, by their clean, painted, fresh appearance, the nature of the purity and quality of the milk they carry.

You can judge the character of a man by his outward appearance. Just so can you judge the character and worthiness of our milk by the appearance and condition of our wagons.

The next time you see one of these wagons, stop the man, get a bottle of our Pasteurized milk and try it, if you have never used it before. We know it will please you, because everybody else is pleased with it.

If you do not care to stop the wagon, just phone us an order tonight, you will get it in the morning.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 28, 1870.—TUESDAY.—Yesterday afternoon the famous White Stockings club of Chicago, visited our city to play a match game with the champion Mutuals. The delegation from Bears-born street, arrived here at 2:15 and were taken at once to the grounds, where a large crowd was waiting to witness the sport. As the players, dressed in their neat and handsome uniforms, appeared upon the ground, all eyes were turned on them. At 3 o'clock Major Phelps of the Garden City of Chicago, having been selected umpire the game commenced with the Mutuals at the bat. Heller was the first to take the ball, but was unable to hit the ball, so he sat down. Sutherland, the next striker, looked as if he was going to knock the cover off the ball, but he didn't for he fell a victim to Wood, and the little man on the first base, so he sat down to comfort Heller. As the immortal "Pete" approached the plate, a number of applause came from a crowd of small boys at the rear, but "Pete" went out like his predecessor, and the Mutuals walked out into the field. The Chicagoans took the bat and they did better, for before the last man was out 14 runs were put on the book for them. In the second inning, the Mutuals were lucky, for they obtained a run, B. Smith being the man to do that, assisted by the other eight men, and as he struck the home base, the applause was deafening. From this time up to the 7th inning the game was very well contested; at that time, however, the "Stockings" got into a streak of hitting and had 21 runs scored in their favor. Our boys were able to obtain but four more runs, and the ninth inning closed with a score of 24 to 5. The game was very well contested throughout; the fielding and batting of the Chicagoans was simply superb. Of the Mutuals, B. Smith at center field took four beautiful fly catches, in a manner that made the professionals gaze. Heller and Sutherland each made a beautiful hit, and the general feeling of the boys was good. It must be remembered, however, that they were playing against the best club in the country, and did a great deal better than many clubs older and of more experience could do. The White Stockings left this morning for Milwaukee to play the "Cream City." The following are the lineups in batting order: Chicago: King, cf.; Hodes, ss.; Wood, 2b.; Culbert, rf.; McAtee, 1b.; Tracey, lf.; Crayner, c.; Maynor, 3b.; Pitchman, p. Mutuals: Heller, ss.; Sutherland, lf.; Leukhagen, cf.; Murton, 2b.; B. Smith, p.; F. Smith, cf.; Conant, 1b.; Hart, 3b.; White, rf. Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 Total Chicago 14 4 1 8 5 2 21 16 4—74 Mutuals 5 0 1 0 0 1 2 10—35

NEAT SCHEME OF REVENGE

Will Made by Maiden Lady Will Cause Her to Be Long If Not Gratefully Remembered.

An extraordinary will has been left by an elderly unmarried lady who recently died in Vienna. Her property, amounting to about $250,000, is appointed to be divided between her three nephews, now aged 24, 27 and 29, and her three nieces, aged 19, 21 and 22, in equal parts on the following conditions:

The six nephews and nieces must all live in the house formerly inhabited by their aunt, with the executor, a lawyer, whose business it will be to see that the conditions of the will are strictly observed. None of the nephews is to marry before reaching his fortieth year, nor the nieces, before their thirtieth, under the penalty that the share of the one so marrying will be divided among the others.

Further, the six legatees are admonished never to quarrel among themselves. If one should do so persistently the executor is empowered to turn him or her out of the house and divide the share as in the case of marriage.

The executor is himself forbidden to marry or to reside elsewhere than in the house with the legatees as long as he holds his office, to which a handsome remuneration is attached. The old maid is said to have made this peculiar will because her nephews and nieces continually worried her during her life by asking her to give them money to enable them to marry—requests she always refused.

The Ticklemouse

—and his Sleepyland Adventures

By Roy Rutherford Bailey with Davy and Dorfy

Decoration Day on the Wing

The Sleepyland twins slept heavily last night, for they had helped celebrate Decoration Day and were both very tired.

"We mustn't keep them out late tonight," whispered the Ticklemouse to little Willy, "when he comes to bed. You say they've been clear out to the cemetery?"

"Yes," squeaked Willy, "and Davy marched in the procession with the old soldiers. Shall I wish 'em awake, Uncle Tick?"

"Wish ahead," said his uncle, "while I unhitch the goosecane."

"Too tired for a decorating trip on the wing," whispered little Willy, reaching out a fat paw to each twin. The three tiptoed, smiling, to the window to find the Ticklemouse tying a big basket to the gray goose's neck.

"To Sleepyland!" cried he, when all were aboard. Away they flew, over the forests and streams, away beyond the town, to a shining daisy field. Daisies by the million, picked much faster than the mice could, and soon the big basket was full to overflowing.

"Where are we going?" whispered Dorfy, as they rose again on the goose's strong back. Willy shook his head. "To decorate the graves of Sleepyland," he answered, "but I guess Uncle Tick doesn't know which place to visit first. So few of our folks die natural deaths, it's hard to locate them."

"At last the mouse made up his mind. 'To St. Ives, first!' he squeaked to the goose, and in a twinkling they were circling over the spot where the Robber Castle once stood. The Ticklemouse took a handful of daisies from the basket and scattered them on the deserted courtyard below.

"Many of our people perished here," said the kind-hearted Ticklemouse. "Decoration Day in Sleepyland means just as much as anywhere else, even if we haven't any cemeteries as you have."

Back to town they flew, and from house to house wandered the four, the daisy-laden goose following them closely, ready to bear them away from sudden danger. It was lucky he did, for every now and then some prowling cat saw them as they strewed the "mouse-traps" with the dainty flowers, and they had some very close calls, indeed.

Fat old Taft, the twins' own cat, was on the watch when they flew back to the nursery window. Davy and Dorfy did not see him, but the Ticklemouse did. "Make a daisy chain!" he whispered, sprinkling Taft with a green powder from his pocket, as they passed over the waiting cat's head. And when the two mice had tickled the twins in bed and crept back out of the window, they found old Taft unconscious, quite at their mercy.

"I would break their hearts if we harmed him," said Willy, "but he's the grave of more mice than any other cat I know, and we must decorate him, mustn't we, Uncle Tick?"

And when the twins came down to breakfast this morning they found a very disgruntled old cat in the kitchen, pawing angrily at his neck, around which hung a wilted daisy chain.

Davy and Dorfy as so funny that they both began to laugh. The Ticklemouse turned around with so grieved a face that they stopped and begged his pardon.

"Many of our people perished here," said the kind-hearted Ticklemouse. "Decoration Day in Sleepyland means just as much as anywhere else, even if we haven't any cemeteries as you have."

D. W. HOLSTLAW IS NOW INDICTED

GRAND JURY RETURNS INDICTMENT AGAINST STATE SENATOR FOR PERJURY.

MAY BRING BRIBERY CHARGE

Bill is Returned in Connection With Purchase of $19,710 Worth of Decks for Capitol—Several Others Are Involved.

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—Senator D. W. Holstlaw of Iuka, Marion county, representing the Forty-second district in the upper house of the Illinois legislature, was indicted by the Mangum county grand jury on a charge of perjury, the result of a statement made to the jury in connection with the purchase of $19,710 worth of desks by the joint committee of which Holstlaw was a member.

Indictments against at least two other members of the commission and perhaps one or two of the agents who sold the desks are said to be drawn and ready to be voted on by the grand jury.

Bribery Charge May Lie.
Holstlaw, it is said, will be reindicted on a charge of soliciting a bribe and possibly a third indictment of bribery will be lodged against him. His indictment for perjury came after he had sworn before the jury that he had not communicated or written to any of the agents representing the desk companies.

State's Attorney Burke asked him this question several times and then asked him if he had written to J. W. Knox of the Dwyer Desk company, 511 Wabash avenue, Chicago.

Holstlaw replied: "I did not." He was excused and then Mr. Burke showed the grand jury the following letter in Holstlaw's handwriting:

"Forty-Sixth, General Assembly, State of Illinois, Senate. D. W. Holstlaw, Forty-Second District, Iuka.

"January 12, 1910.—Mr. Knox, Chicago, Ill.

"My Dear Sir: It has been arranged that I should see you. Will it be convenient for you to meet me in Springfield Monday evening, say about eight o'clock? If so, wire or write me at my home, Iuka, Ill. Must see you not later than above date. Yours respectfully,

(Signed) "D. W. HOLSTLAW."
After identifying Holstlaw's signature the indictment was voted.

Placed in Sheriff's Charge.

A court had adjourned before the sheriff could serve the bench warrant ordered by Judge Robert G. Shirely. Holstlaw was allowed in the sheriff's custody until he appears for arraignment. His bond was placed at $1,000. According to the evidence of Knox before the grand jury, he paid Holstlaw as directed in the letter and ordered Holstlaw $1,000 or $500 for himself, and $500 for Senator Pemberton for the contract. He told the grand jury that Holstlaw said he would not consider such a small sum, and spoke about $2,000.

WAYMAN ANSWERS PLEA OF BRIBERY DEFENSE

State's Attorney Makes Sarcastic Speech in Reply to Counsel for Browne.

Chicago, May 28.—State's Attorney Wayman fired a raking broadside in Judge McCullough's court into the fabric of technicalities raised by the defense for Leo O'Sell Browne in seeking to quash the bribery indictment against the minority leader and with livestock, warman and riddle, fortified by citations from the law books, assailed the theory of Attorney W. S. Farrest that it was no crime under the laws of Illinois to give or to take a bribe for voting for a United States senator.

"We have had two days of argument by the defense, trying to get this case out of court, and when that was seen to be failing, we had a new lawyer come into the case and tried to get the judge out of the case," said the prosecutor. "It was announced by the defense that it was not a crime to commit bribery by buying a vote for a United States senator."

"This was the 'joke' in the indictment, and confess it is still a 'joke' to me. If we let the defense go on, I am sure they will say that there is no venue anywhere in Illinois or anywhere in the nation, but possibly with some justice of the peace, say at Niles Center."

"If it is no crime to buy a vote for senator, then a senatorship can be classed as merchandise and should be listed in the stock exchange. If this be true, some day we will hear the speaker of the house at Springfield formally open the general assembly, and after the usual prayer by the chaplain, declare the purpose of the general assembly to be to elect a United States senator. Then he will turn to the clerk and ask him to read the price list."

TAFT IN LETTER RAPS CRITICS IN CONGRESS

Expresses Resentment at Remarks in Debate in House Over Traveling Expenses.

Washington, May 28.—President Taft gave out a letter to Representative James A. Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the appropriations committee, expressing regret at an incident in the house of representatives, in which Mr. Tawney criticized members of congress from the south who had traveled with the president on his tour last fall for their opposition to an appropriation of $25,000 to cover the president's traveling expenses in the next fiscal year.

The president says he is especially distressed by "suggested reflection on southern hospitality."

The letter follows:
I am deeply grieved over the phase which the discussion of the appropriation for the traveling expenses of the president took yesterday. I think it is a legitimate argument in favor of such an appropriation that congressmen and many others press the acceptance of invitations to visit their sections and districts, because the urgency of such requests indicates the opinion on the part of the people that one of the duties of the president is to visit the people in their homes.

But the intimation or suggestion that the acceptance by congressmen of the president's invitation to travel on the train with him, in their respective districts or states was a reason why they should not vote their free opinion on the question of such an appropriation is to me a most painful one.

In traveling upon the train they were not receiving my hospitality—they were only making a little more elaborate the cordial welcome which they as representatives of their districts wished to give.

The nature of the discussion yesterday day which was suggested reflection on southern hospitality. The intimation that somewhere in the south there was charged has no foundation in fact, and I never heard it intimated until I saw it in this morning's paper.

In all my experience—and I have enjoyed the hospitality of many sections and countries of the world—I never had a more cordial, generous, open and lavish welcome than I had in the southern states during my trip, and the slightest hint that puts me in the attitude of a critic of that hospitality gives me great pain.

In conclusion the president stated to Mr. Tawney that he would make the letter public.

GIRLS KILLED IN AUTO WRECK.

Two Other Occupants of Car Are Badly Injured.

Logan, O., May 28.—While returning from a party an automobile driven by William Snyder, president of a lumber company, ran over an embankment near Young's bridge and Miss Lillian Wright and Miss Flossie Herman were instantly killed. Mrs. Don Snyder's leg is fractured and Mr. Snyder's leg is broken. Miss Wright was to have been married next Wednesday.

"CANTEEN" BEATEN IN HOUSE.

Amendment Pertaining to Army Saloon Defeated 17 to 351.

Washington, May 28.—The old fight over the canteen question was reopened in the house by an amendment offered by Mr. Kellher of Massachusetts to the sundry civil bill to allow canteens at all old soldiers' homes within five miles of cities where liquor is sold. The house rejected the amendment by a vote of 17 to 351.

What Would You Give for Health?

Hundreds of sick people are spending all they can earn in a vain search for health. Hundreds of other sick ones, rich and with plenty with which to gratify every wish are spending money like water in a vain search for health.

What is the Reason? Why do they not find it?

Because they follow along the old lines; ways that have for over a hundred years been followed in a never-ending search for the pot of gold at the bottom of the rainbow, for the search for health through dosing with medicine is a chimerical dream, one that will never be realized.

People come to my office every day and say "Oh, how I wish I had known of this wonderful way of being well before I had spent every cent I have in the world in paying doctor's bills." Yes, it is too bad, but how about you, sick man or woman, who have just started in on the never-ending search for health by the medicine-dosing-way? Will you, be warned by the experience of others or must you, too, experience the agonizing disappointment that comes in ever trying and never succeeding.

For over two years now in Beloit and Janesville, I have been showing by my work that my claims are founded on the solid rock of facts—facts so incontrovertible that they should need no proof—but to the doubting I show the proof. Hundreds of sick ones in Beloit, in Janesville, in Rockton, in Clinton; all 'round about here the list has names of those who have proved by successful experience the fact that the Chiropractic science is the most wonderful science of the age.

If you suffer from any ill there is a way to be well. There is a living of hope to the black clouds of illness, not medicine, not being out to please by surgery—but by putting the nerves in the pink of condition through adjustments of the spine—simple, practical and wonderfully successful. The Chiropractic (Kro-pak-tik) service is the new application of an old theory—"That to remove the CAUSE of the illness and the evil effects would disappear."

I want every sick man and woman in this vicinity to come to me for an interview. It will cost you nothing to come in and let me tell you how to be well, and you know how much it is worth to you should you have your health restored.

If you cannot call upon me write and tell me about your case. I will tell you honestly just what any Chiropractic adjustments will accomplish for you. Is it not worth this small effort to know a perfect way to health?

LORIMER ASKED AN INVESTIGATION

BLONDE BOSS OF CHICAGO IN-VITES SENATE TO MAKE IN-QUIRY INTO ELECTION.

CALLS IT ALL POLITICS

Also Plot of the Tribune to Ruin His Financial Interests—Praises
Browne as a Man.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—William Lorimer, United States Senator from Illinois, who it is charged purchased his election to the United States Senate by various Chicago interests, today asked the Senate to make a most thorough investigation of his case.

Senator Lorimer admitted his case to the Senate's consideration in a speech in which he laid all the blame for the trouble on the Chicago Tribune, his principal accuser and bitterly attacked the man who is alleged to have conspired to the bribery.

Senator Lorimer reviewed in detail nearly twenty-five years of warfare in which he has been engaged and declared that the Chicago Tribune had and knew it had when it charged bribery.

Senator Lorimer declared that those who made the charge and in view not only his political destruction, but "that there was a deliberate purpose to destroy a new banking association in Chicago" which he had been organizing with some friends.

"I do not know what kind of a man he would be who would dare to offer a bribe to Browne," said Senator Lorimer, "much less ask him to bribe others. He stands in the front rank of successful lawyers at the bar in Illinois."

Referred to Committee.

Lorimer's resolution for an investigation of his election to the Senate was referred under the rules to the committee on contingent expenses.

Sensation Expected.

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—Sensational developments are expected late this afternoon in the legislative bribery scandal, for it is rumored that Senator Lorimer, indicted yesterday for perjury, has promised to tell all he knows if promised immunity.

Denied to Wait.

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—Governor Downer, when notified of Lorimer's speech today, declared he would not reply to it until he had read a full copy of the speech. It was intimated that he would issue a statement tonight.

its own initiative has issued an order requiring the Platteville Gas company to appear June 2 and explain how it expended the funds derived from fifty thousand dollars in stock authorized in 1909, to pay for a complete gas manufacture and distributing plant. In the order authorizing the sale of the security the company was required to report what disposition it made of the funds received within 30 days but the company failed to obey the order.

CLARNO WOMAN HAD MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Mrs. Tobias Uninjured in Runaway in Which Carriage She Was Driving Was Overturned.

Monroe, Wis., May 28.—Mrs. Tobias
H. Wild, living on the old Truman place in Clarino, had a runaway while driving to this city with a load of marketable articles. An auto, driven by John Kubly, also of Clarino, came close to the rig, which Mrs. Wild was driving, and frightened the horse, which dashed down the road. The buggy was overturned but the horse continued on its way dragging the rig and occupant with it. Mrs. Wild braved herself against the dashboard so hard that the board was broken off.
Finally the horse ran up on a bank and the occupant jumped out.
She immediately extricated herself from the broken rig and went after the horse, catching it beyond the home of Patrick Grady, about a mile from Grady's Crossing. Several shoppers coming to town just behind the runaway were witnesses to the accident.
Mrs. Wild's escape was nothing short of miraculous. Fortunately she was the only one in the buggy at the time.
The rig was smashed and the horse received a bad cut on one leg and several scratches. Mrs. Wild was bruised in several places.

Tin Shower.

A number of young lady friends gave a tin shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Buchler, 419 West Tusculum street for Miss Pearl Johnson, who is to be married in the near future to Frank Buchler, who is engaged in the plumbing business in this city.
Miss Johnson has been employed for several months at the Phylloxera restaurant and came here from Pennsylvania.

Autos for Veterans.

The Monroe Auto club has followed the example of clubs elsewhere and have placed their members at the disposal of U. S. Army Post, G. A. R., to convey the old soldiers to and from the cemetery in the parade. Carriages are usually furnished to the veterans but the club expects to have machines enough to carry the entire post.

Flags for Schools.

GEORGE I. BORN 250 YEARS AGO

First of Hanover Line of English Rulers Could Speak No English
Hence, the Rise of Walpole.

London, May 28.—Since the accession of George I., to the throne much has been printed in the British papers concerning the four Georges who preceded him. In this connection it is interesting to note that today is the 250th anniversary of the birth of the first of that name, George I., who was the first sovereign of the Hanover line.
His accession to the throne of Great Britain and Ireland came through his mother, the granddaughter of James
I. Parliament had fixed the succession in the following order: 1, Princess Mary of Orange, eldest daughter of James II.; 2, Princess Anne of Denmark, the younger daughter of James II.; 3, William of Orange, son of Mary, the eldest daughter of Charles II. In the failure of heirs to these three, the succession was limited to the electress Sophia of Hanover, granddaughter of James I., and mother of him who became George I.

The most conspicuous figure in the reign of George I. was Sir Robert Walpole, the first prime minister of England. The fact that George could speak no English, while his ministers could speak no German, taken with the other fact that George hated to live in England and spent much of his time in Hanover, gave to the office of prime minister, that Walpole was the first to hold, the important character that it has since retained.

President Taft will review the Memorial Day parade in New York Monday and two days later he is scheduled to pay a visit to Bryn Mawr college to deliver the annual commencement address.

Friday, the birthday anniversary of Jefferson Davis, only president of the Confederacy, will be widely observed as a holiday throughout the South.
At a banquet to be given in St.
Louis Thursday night Joseph W. Folk is expected to announce whether he will be a candidate for the United States senate, or whether he will reserve his strength for the race for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1912.

The Democratic State primary to be held in Tennessee Saturday will attract general attention owing to the serious split in the party ranks between the supporters and opponents of Governor Patterson.

Other events that will figure in the news of the week will be the unveiling of an equestrian statue of General Custer at Monroe, (Mich.), the dedication of the Kentucky State Capitol at Frankfort, the celebration of the semi-centennial of the New York Homeopathic Medical College, the annual convention of the Canadian Medical association in Toronto, and the graduation exercises at the United States Naval Academy and at other leading colleges throughout the country.

Many interesting events and happenings abroad will attract the attention of readers on this side of the Atlantic. The International Court of Arbitration at The Hague is scheduled to begin the hearing of oral arguments for the adjustment of the differences between Great Britain and the United States growing out of the Newfoundland fisheries case.

The new South African commonwealth, comprising the British possessions of Cape Colony, Natal, the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony, will become an accomplished fact Tuesday, on which day the new union government will be formally inaugurated by Viscount Gladstone, the first Governor-General.

Other events of the week abroad will include the running of the historic English Derby at Epsom Downs, the observance of the forty-fifth birthday anniversary of King George V., the presentation of the freedom of the City of London to Theodore Roosevelt, former President of the United States, the seventy-fifth birthday anniversary of Pope Pius X., and the meeting of the eighth convention of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union in Glasgow, at which both the United States and Canada will be well represented by delegates.

WORLD'S COURT

AT THE HAGUE

TO ARBITRATE NEWFOUNDLAND
FISHERIES QUESTION

From Many Of The Globe And Lazy Old Dutch Capital Is Buzzing With Anticipation.

The Hague, May 28.—An array of illustrations counsel engaged to conduct the oral arguments in the Newfoundland fisheries dispute before the International Arbitration Court next week is beginning to pour in. Apparently, the diplomats and lawyers are accompanied by a host of expert, technical experts and attaches, together with a number of newspaper correspondents, and the lazy old Dutch capital is beginning to buzz with an animation such as has not been witnessed since the last world's peace conference.

The personnel of the arbitration court is to be the most distinguished ever chosen to preside at the trial of a special case before the great peace tribunal. The presiding officer will be Dr. Heinrich Lammasch, the noted Austrian authority on international law. The other members of the court will be Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; Judge George Gray, of the United States Circuit Court; Joukheer A. P. De Savornin Lohmann, of the Netherlands, and Luis M. Dragon, of the Argentine Republic.

The legal representatives of Great Britain, including Canada and Newfoundland will include the Hon. A. B.
Aylesworth, Minister of Justice of Canada; the Hon. Sir Edward Morris, K. C., Premier of Newfoundland; the Right Hon. Sir Robinson, K. C., Attorney-General of England; D. Morrison, K. C., Attorney General of Newfoundland; the Hon. Sir James Winter, K. C., Former Attorney-General of Newfoundland; the Right Hon. Sir Robert Finlay, former Attorney-General of England; Sir H. E. Richards, K. C., who was counsel for Great Britain in the Samoa and Venezuela arbitrations; John S. Ewart, K. C., distinguished Canadian lawyer, Messrs.
Blais and Ittenden are the British solicitors.

Equally distinguished though not quite so numerous, will be the representatives of the United States. Senator Elihu Root of New York heads the list of counsel, the other members including, Charles P. Anderson, who acts as agent; former Senator George Turner of Washington, who represented the United States on the Alaska Boundary Tribunal; Samuel J. Elder, a distinguished lawyer of Boston, and James Brown Scott, solicitor for the Department of State.

Officers for Opening Term of Next School Year Chosen by Rusk Lyceum Yesterday.

The annual election of the officers of the Rusk Lyceum Literary society of the high school for the opening term of the coming school year, was held yesterday afternoon after school at the school building. The officers elected are:

President—George Yahn.
Vice-president—Harry Sholes.
Secretary—Frank Hazen.
Treasurer—Harold Mohr.
Librarian—Lewie French.
Sergeant-at-arms—John McGinley.
The society is making plans for the annual banquet which will occur at the high school building next Friday evening. At the close of the banquet the members will attend a dancing party in East Side Odd Fellows hall.

Condition Puzzles Doctors: Dr. Owen came here from Chicago yesterday to attend a consultation of physicians in the case of Arthur G. Metzinger who was injured in a train accident at Chicago. Mr. Metzinger's condition is not critical but he does not seem to be recovering as rapidly as might reasonably be expected.

TWO RETURNED TO THE JAIL THIS MORNING

Woman and One Companion Who Escaped Last Night Are Again Taken in Custody.

Oshkosh, May 28.—(Harry Bremer) Hoped that Mrs. Morris left the jail this morning returned of their own accord today, probably deciding they could not escape from the city without being discovered. Frank Kolinski, the third member of the trio, has not been discovered, but special efforts are being made to find him as he has a record for crime. It is believed that Mrs. Morris left the jail and secured the saw with which the escape was made. She had been allowed considerable liberty about the jail and had assisted in the kitchen at the sheriff's residence so that it could have been easy for her to get the saw.

REPUBLICANS TO GATHER JUNE 4TH

COUNTY CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN THIS CITY.

WILL ELECT 32 DELEGATES

To Attend the State Gathering of Tatt Republicans in Milwaukee on June 8th.

The formal call to the supporters of the administration of President Taft to meet in Milwaukee on June 8 was issued today by the Republican convention committee in Milwaukee. The proclamation is signed by nearly 1,000 Milwaukee and Wisconsin Republicans. The call specifically states that there will be no endorsement of any state or national candidates; merely a gathering to reassert the principles on which President Taft was elected and which he is striving to enact. It outlines plans for a blow at the insurgents, however.

Want Government by Majority. "Representative government of parties is as necessary in a republic as representative government in the states and nation. Where members of parties are given no opportunity to assemble and confer for the purpose of ascertaining the will of a majority of the party there is no way in which that majority can make its will known."

"These statements of fact are fundamental, and it does not require argument to early conviction of their truth to the mind of the thoughtful citizen. If any thing were needed to prove their soundness, the experience of the Republican party in Wisconsin during the last six years would furnish the required evidence. The Republican voters today are without a voice in choosing their leaders or formulating their party principles. The result is party disorganization, a multiplicity of hostile factions, widespread dissatisfaction, and bitter personal controversies."

"The remedy for the unfortunate condition is plain and unmistakable. The party members should exercise their constitutional right of assembly and meet in convention, a right that was fully recognized by our Supreme Court in its recent decision constraining the primary law."

Plans Blow at Insurgents. "Wisconsin is a Republican state. And yet we are confronted by an anomalous condition that exists at Washington, where Wisconsin members of congress, commissioned by Republican electors to represent their views, are persistently voting with the Democratic minority in that body to delay the enactment of Republican measures, to embarrass the Republican administration, and to defeat or make difficult, the redemption of Republican pledges."

"We believe that the Republicans of this state, under President Taft and his administration. We believe further that the time has come when the Republicans of this state should choose representatives who are not office-seekers or officeholders to meet in convention and agree upon the principles for which the Republican party of this state stands, and select such men for public office as can be relied upon to adhere to those principles, and who will support the Republican party in the state of Wisconsin and in our national congress."

The county gatherings will be held on June 14th and every republican who can subscribe to the above platform is requested to meet in the Rock county court house on that date to select delegates to attend the Milwaukee meeting. The apportionment of delegates is the same as that selected for the 1904 Republican state convention which is 11 for the first assembly district, 9 for the second and 12 for the third assembly district—32 in all.

Harry L. Gifford Auxiliary: Members are requested to meet at U. S. W. V. hall at ten o'clock Sunday morning to attend memorial service. Members are also requested to meet at the hall promptly at 8 o'clock Monday morning to assist in the decoration of comrades' graves. Sarah C. Dougherty, Pres.; Paul L. Hill, Secy.

An Ideal Place To Spend the Summer

You can secure a most profitable education in one of the most pleasant places it is possible to find, by attending the JANESVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE.

What are your chances for advancement where you are? Are you worth more today than you were yesterday? We can make you worth more if you will give us the opportunity.

Since Jan. 1, 1909, we have placed over ONE HUNDRED FIFTY young people in positions that lead to something better. We can place you at once if you can do the work. CAN YOU DO IT? If you have nothing definite in mind, you would better get your activities headed in the direction of the where you will find large, light, airy rooms, tastefully decorated and furnished in an ideal way to conduct a school for the education of office workers. Individual tables and chairs—lots of elbow room. Our main room has eighteen large windows that distribute the light in a manner not to be improved. The breezes from all directions are admitted, and if the day is unusually quiet, we have large electric fans to develop air currents.

We are making an attractive offer in the way of price and special course work for the summer term.

The great volume of advertising carried in these columns is due to the great circulation of The Gazette. 5300 homes receive The Gazette daily and from this large number of homes many people are looking for just the things advertised each day.

Comet Direct Cause of Death. Louise of Savoy, mother of Francis I, was so frightened by the appearance of a comet that she declared it to be a signal for her death. And curiously enough she died three days later under this fatal belief. Coming down to more recent years, one finds that in 1865 people all the world over were frightened of the comet.

There must be a mighty solid basis for the phenomenal success that has followed the E-M-F Company from the very first.

No other automobile concern ever has enjoyed the tremendous success this one has. The whole world knows and all the world is talking about the Company and its cars, constantly. There must be a reason and it must be a good one. Even competitors admit that!

Everywhere E-M-F "30" is first choice of that class of buyers who want all that can be had of efficiency, power, durability and elegance and comfort at a price under $2,000. E-M-F "30" sells for $1250 fully equipped with five lamps, generator, horn and magneto.

This further you seek for the reason for this popularity—for the splendid reputation achieved by this car in so short a time, the more does it appear that after all the car itself is the real reason.

Ten thousand people are daily engaged in selling E-M-F "30" cars—largest sales force and cheapest—for they all work for love. They are satisfied owners.

COMMUNICATION.

That Fond du Lac Contest.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
I am sending you a few facts about the state declamatory contest held at Fond du Lac last evening. The decision was considered unsatisfactory by the entire audience, no one who was present considered anyone but Miss Humphrey and Miss Mahoney of Fond du Lac for first place. As Miss Mahoney went forty seconds over time, first place clearly belonged to Miss Humphrey, who received one first place, one second place and one fifth, the last given by a professor of chemistry, who in nearly all cases reversed the opinion of the other judges and the audience. His lack of judgment in declamatory work was evident by his statement that he was not aware that the young lady whom he gave first place mispronounced several words. He marked Miss H. down for lack of spirit when she alone of all contestants, although the audience were requested not to applaud, received an applause which broke forth involuntarily.

THE MATCHLESS CAR

It is evident that the Overland is still unmatched in the features which most men seek. Taking all points together, there is no car to compare with it.

The simplicity, the price, the freedom from trouble, appeal to all men who know. The result is, the Overland—one of the newest creations—is now out-selling any other car that is made.

And it is being made better and better. In the factories two of the ablest engineers in the automobile field are employed. And they devote their whole time to devising improvements.

The new machinery gives exactness to the ten-thousandth part of an inch. It makes every part interchangeable.

The various parts of the car, from beginning to end, pass thousands of rigid inspections. And every car, before it goes out, gets the severest sort of a road test.

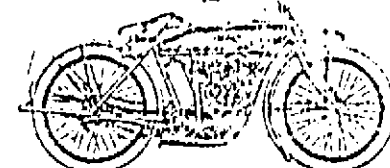

Overlands are never shipped until the experts agree that the car is in perfect condition. Our whole business is built by each car selling others.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

"During the past couple of weeks the 'Must Worry Club' has had many accessions to its membership, thanks to the widely-heralded visit of Halley's comet. Now, that the comet's tail has switched the earth without harming anybody, the members of the club in question have to secure a new subject for consideration, and there is little question but what they will find one. It is written in the constitution of the club that every member must carry on an active campaign for the discovery of new worries and the enrollment of as many of their friends and acquaintances as possible in the membership of the club.

"When a member of the 'Must Worry Club' is stricken and a doctor is called, the afflicted one is told he is suffering from neurasthenia, the scientific name for the lamentable malady which afflicts all pillars of the club. Specialists charge handsome fees for treating neurasthenia, but their treatment counts for very little unless the patient withdraws at once and for all from the worrier's club. Many an ill which thrives on drugs and defies the medical fraternity can be effectually and permanently cured by the application of a simple remedy—'Don't worry.'"

This little text, from the New York Christian Advocate, expresses tersely the cause of half the ill which afflict humanity. The "Must Worry Club" is a close organization with neither constitution nor by-laws. Any one is accessible to membership who has the nerve and the world is full of people who not only possess the infection but who cultivate the disease on the slightest provocation.

The Halley comet brought to the surface a long list of chronic cases and the fool things which developed taxes belief. Enterprising insurance agents in Chicago did a thriving business among the colored population, who took out policies against accident.

Many suicides were committed, and people gave away their property, and all because they imagined in some vague way that the tail of the comet would sweep this old world out of existence, but the sun continues to shine and nature seems undisturbed.

The comet, which appears but once in seventy-five years, is but a passing worry which only those people enjoy who happen to be living at the time of its appearance, and those of us who have escaped will have no occasion to worry about what may happen in 1985.

The hand which started those heavenly bodies swinging through space, still controls them and the right of way is so well established that collisions never happen.

If the things we worry about were seventy-five years apart, like the comet, the most of us would live our allotted time and most of the doctors would be out of business, but the "Must Worry Club" is so attractive that we become charter members and graduate with a diploma before the race is half finished.

It is worth something to have a good credit, and men in business have long since discovered that the bank of confidence is absolutely necessary to success but any kind of a reputation will pass muster when it comes to borrowing trouble.

The people who have money and the people who have none meet on one common plane as trouble borrowers, and the more we borrow the more inexhaustable is the supply.

Diseases of the body are bad enough and some people are compelled to go through life as legitimate sufferers through accident or inherited disease for which they are not responsible, but diseases of the mind are much more common, and the cause of infinitely more suffering than the other class.

The mind influences digestion, upsets the stomach and plays havoc with us in every way. A man has a pain below the belt and at once concludes that he enjoys that popular malady, appendicitis. His fears are confirmed by a physician and soon the "worry" club gets busy. If he wasn't sick before, he soon will be, and then he wonders why the good Lord made a mistake in supplying him with a useless appendix.

He is troubled a good deal as the temperance lecturer was who discussed his effort with his host on the way home from the hall where he had been holding forth.

His friend said to him, "You didn't make it very clear about the wine that was served at the marriage feast."

"Well," said the lecturer, "I didn't care to discuss that very much, for you know I have always thought that the Master made a grave mistake on that occasion."

The most of us would hardly feel warranted in carrying our criticism quite so far. We are content with handling the weather, which is never just right, and which could be improved by any of us if we had a chance.

We not only criticize the weather but we worry about it, and when our stock of worry runs low the supply is readily renewed by consulting Hickey's almanac and admiring the cheerful pictures of storm and flood, until impressed with the notion that a cyclone collar is of more importance than a guest room in the house.

The worries of life not only destroy happiness and shorten the span of existence but they cause us to live in the shadows when we ought to be out in God's free sunshine. A writer for the Los Angeles Express recently gave away the following secret, which is worth remembering.

Do you want to know the secret of the happiness of life?
Taste the nectar that is flowing in this world of toil and strife?

Would you learn to smile at trouble and to keep your temper sweet?
Then move out of Grouchy Alley and reside on Sunny Street.

You can laugh at every trial, and your life will fly away;
You can revel in your gladness every hour of the day,
And your heart will echo snatches of the songs your lips repeat.

If you'll move from Grouchy Alley out on happy Sunny Street.

Why be lingering in shadows, when the sunshine, ever fair,
Bids you come out where the blossoms and the bird songs greet the air?

You can walk in paths of pleasure with expectant, eager feet,
If you'll banish Grouchy Alley for the joys of Sunny Street.

So look up and face your trials with a confidence supreme!
Happiness will be your portion—not a vague and misty dream;

You'll experience the fullness of the happy life complete,
Just by leaving Grouchy Alley for the joys of Sunny Street.

PRESS COMMENT.

Do Peap's Comet?
And the next time the comet flares its tail it is to be hoped it will pin it on so it cannot come off again.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Marking Back.
King George V. is a successful stamp collector. Come to think of it King George the III made a failure of collecting American stamps.—Marquette Eagle-Star.

He's From Missouri
Senator Lorimer's declaration that he has no idea of resigning his seat is not surprising. When a man pays out a lot of good money for a good thing, far be it for him to give it away.—Ashland Press.

Hands Off!
Regardless of who is president the principle that the executive should not interfere with the legislative is right. This is found in so called measures sought to be forced through congress and state legislatures. Roosevelt may have started the practice, but this does not make it right, for some day a profound trouble will arise from the practice.—Racine Journal.

How Constant! They Are.
Haveridge denounced the infamous attempt to keep up the tariff on steel and wolens and zinc—all products of other states; but voted for the highest rate on cloth, a product of his own Indiana. Dolliver stormed against the robbers who wanted to tax Iowa on glass and zinc but voted loud and clear for a duty on hides (an Iowa product). La Follette scored the beef trust that had hides to sell, but was silent on Wisconsin zinc. And yet these three, snuffing each other's tails, are brothers in insurgency. Truly the tariff should not be in politics.—Madison Journal.

Answered Again.
Has the Milwaukee Journal gone completely crazy? It said yesterday in double-headed type, "If the president of the United States should come in to the state of Wisconsin and urge the people to a general election not to elect this man for congress, to nominate this man for state, and state to state, with all the power of patronage behind him, what would be thought of it, what ought to be thought of it? It would not be tolerated for one moment; it would LIGHT THE TORCH OF REVOLUTION," etc.

Of course it would, but do you know (you do know) that is exactly what Governor La Follette did. He came or went into county after county and, distinctly, emphatically called the roll and directed just who should be elected to the assembly and to the state senate. It is this color blindness on the part of his hide-bound followers that make others unwilling to recognize anything that he might do that is for the best. Who, for instance, dictated that Lenroot should run for governor? Was it the people or La Follette?—Eau Claire Leader.

"Farewell!" I said, to the friend I loved, and my eyes were filled with tears; "I know you'll come to my heart again, in a few brief, hurried years!" Ah, many come up the garden path, and knock at my cottage door, but the friend I loved when my heart was young, comes back to that heart no more. "Farewell!" I cried to the gentle bird, whose music had filled the dawn; "you fly away, but you'll sing again." Ah, the bright birds away on the apple-boughs, and sing as they sang before; but the bird I loved, with the golden voice, shall sing to my heart no more! "Farewell!" I said to the Thomas Cat, I threw in the gurgling creek, all weighted down with a smothering iron, and a hundredweight of brick. "You'll not come back, if I know myself, from the silent, sunless shore!" Then I journeyed home, and that blundered old cat was there by the kitchen door!

This is a serious talk to parents about the boy—the common, everyday garden variety of boy.

He is a great institution.
He is bigger than factory or farm or business, because he has in him the making of a man, and a man is the biggest thing in the universe.

Also the boy may miss being a man and become a mere thing.
Naturally there is a lot of good in your boy. He is inclined to be trustful. He has a very keen sense of justice. And his heart is wide open to the influences that appeal to his pride and manliness. He wants to do his best.

Now, all of this in your boy is fine raw material out of which you may manufacture manliness. But—If you want to get the most out of him believe in him. Just make believe will not do. He will find you out.

If you really believe in him he will believe in you, which is your starting point.
And if you really believe in him you will not scold him or find fault with him all the time, because that sort of treatment does not bring out the good in him. It brings out the bad in him.

If you would get at the heart of him cultivate his ambition and foster his natural desire to do his best by encouragement.
Because the boy will grow into the likeness of that which he desires to do and be. If you can stimulate him to do and become the best he will grow into that perfection as naturally as the flower comes to its fruition. Even flowers must be encouraged.

Cheer him on!
If his habits have become bad change his surroundings. Association has everything to do with the making and unmaking of a boy. Get him into the right company, change his activities, and the bad habits will disappear by disuse.

Do not do too much for him. You must be careful along this line. If you do too much for him he will do nothing for himself. And that is fatal, because the best way for him to learn to do things is by doing them—by experience.

In short, while the boy is young treat him very firmly, but very kindly and very justly—remember, very justly.

As he grows older appeal to his natural pride to get on in the world. Get his confidence and hold on to it. Stimulate his ambition by encouragement. Keep him in the right company.

Common advice? Yes, but many a parent is trying to force his boy or neglect him or scold him into manliness. It cannot be done.

Don't Forget To Ring Off

Many people will telephone, and when finished walk away without ringing off. Central has no way of knowing that you are finished unless you ring off, or unless she "cuts in" and listens to see if you are finished.

Your line won't be busy as long and you will be able to get central quicker if you will RING OFF when finished.

You can have a Rock County phone in your home for $1.00 per month.

Decoration Day

Of all the holidays in the year it seems particularly fitting to close places of business on Decoration Day.

This is a busy world, time flies, the tide flows on, one thing chases another so fast that we are apt to enjoy our benefits to the full but are too prone to forget the sacrifice that preceded the happiness. The G. A. R. should be remembered. Our store will be closed for the day.

Flowers For Decoration Day

SECOND HONORS WON LAST NIGHT

BY JANSVILLE SPEAKERS IN TWO STATE CONTESTS.

MISS RUTH HUMPHREY WAS

Given Second Place in Declamatory Contest at Fond du Lac and George Yahn Second in Oratorical Contest Here.

Second place in two speaking contests for state honors was the good fortune which befell representatives of the Jansville high school last evening. Miss Ruth Humphrey was second in the girls' declamatory contest at Fond du Lac, and George Yahn, who spoke at the oratorical contest held at the high school building in this city, won second place, being a close second to Joe Glassner of Marshfield.

Both young people have won distinct honors for the school, and have established a precedent difficult to follow. But one other declamatory speaker, Miss Erna Shoopmaker, has been able to win second place in the state contest, and never before in the history of the school has one of its orators contested with other state high school orators. They are to be feted by the students at a banquet to be given by the Sophomore and Junior classes on Saturday evening next.

Oratorical Contest.
The contest was very interesting, although the crowd which was present was considerably smaller than that at the stock county league contest, the distance of the cities from which the speakers came presenting them from bringing with them more than one or two friends, generally members of the faculty. One out of the state speaker, Sam Patek, of Ironwood, Mich., was present, being the winner in a district mostly made up of Northern Wisconsin schools. Other schools whose orators took part besides those already mentioned, were La Crosse, Cobb, Sheboygan and Antigo.

The Program.
The first speaker was Joe Glassner of Marshfield, who was the winner. The subject of his oration was "Gratuitous Injustice Against Cary," from a fiery declamatory speech delivered in the English parliament. George Yahn followed him with the oration with which he won the league and district contests, "The Empire Builder." Yahn's delivery last evening was almost perfect and his style exceeded that exhibited in previous contests. Third in order on the program was Irving Tator of La Crosse, who spoke on "Jean Valjean and the Bishop." As a declamation the piece was splendidly given, but it hardly met the requirements of an oratorical contest. "Abraham Lincoln," an eulogy of the "greatest American," was well presented by Harry Shapiro of Sheboygan, and Harold Bachman of delivery of "The March of the Flag," which resembled a political speech, was very good, although the young man seemed to be troubled with a cold. The tribute to the San Domingo negro champion, Toussaint L'Ouverture in a selection bearing the same title was the oration given by Sam Patek of Ironwood. He has a good voice, reinforced by proper gestures. Favoring the abolition of the saloon was the speech of Curtis G. Callow of Cobb, on "The Court of Last Appeal," holding the interest of the audience the entire time that he spoke. Jay C. Truesdell of River Falls showed ability in his oration, "On the Boston Massacre."

Judges of Contest.
State Senator John M. Whitehead presided at the contest and announced the decision of the judges. The high school orchestra rendered the opening and closing numbers of the program, two pleasing selections—"The Mellow March" and the reverend, "The Way-side Chapel." The judges of the contest, selected by Prof. G. C. Shutt of the Whitewater Normal school, were: Prof. R. L. Lyman and Prof. Scott H. Goodnight of Madison, Prof. H. D. Denmore of Beloit, Prof. J. L. Rounds and Rev. W. L. Lewis of Whitewater. Principal J. C. Peterson of Beloit kept the record of the time each contestant took in delivering his oration.

The Reception.
After the contest, the speakers, judges, visiting faculty and others who took part in the program last evening, including the members of the high school orchestra, were the guests at an informal reception held in the auditorium. Light refreshments were served, several of the young ladies of the Senior class acting as waitresses.

H. S. M'GIFFIN TO LEAVE JANSVILLE

Will Take Charge of American Cigar Co.'s Business at Madison on July the First.

H. S. McGiffin of the leaf tobacco firm of McGiffin & Birkmeyer, 120 North Academy street, will succeed Mr. Gorman as manager of the American Cigar Co.'s business at Madison on July 1. Mr. Gorman will be sent to look after the firm's interests on the island of Porto Rico.

Important changes in methods have been adopted by the corporation in order, it is believed, to avoid legal entanglements. The Wisconsin branches have heretofore been directed by a state manager from a central office at Madison. This office has been abolished and in the future each branch will be conducted by an independent business. The man in charge will receive full authority to employ his own buyers and assistants, buy in any territory he chooses, and use his own judgment in every matter pertaining to its operations.

PROGRAM FOR THE SERVICES MONDAY

EXERCISES WILL BE HELD IN THE MEYERS THEATRE IN AFTERNOON.

DECORATE GRAVES, MORNING

Veterans, Members of the W. H. C. Spanish War Veterans and Their Auxiliary To Go To The Cemetery In The Morning.

On Monday, Decoration day, set aside by the national government, the citizens of the different northern States as a legal holiday in memory of the departed soldiers and sailors of the late rebellion, who in the sixties went out at the call of the President to keep this nation one and united the, William H. Sargent Post No. 20 of the Grand Army of the Republic will hold special exercises to commemorate the day.

At eight thirty in the morning the members of the Post will assemble in their hall at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, reinforced by the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Harry L. Gifford Camp 22 of the United Spanish War Veterans and their Ladies Auxiliary, and will proceed to the cemetery where the graves of the dead comrades will be decorated with flowers and flags. B. H. Baldwin is officer of the day. Many residents of Jansville who own automobiles have offered their cars for the carrying of the veterans to and from the cemetery. Those who have offered their cars for this purpose and others who are willing to be of service will be at the corner of Main and Milwaukee Street at eight thirty. The trip out and back should not take much over an hour and is an especially fitting tribute on the part of the younger generation to the old soldiers.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the regular Post memorial services will be held in the Myers Theatre to which the public are invited. J. E. Carle will preside and the following program will be given.

Musical by the Drum Corps.
Prayer by Rev. T. D. Williams, Cargill M. E. Church.

Memorial Day Address, by Mr. William H. Dougherty.
Invocation by Y. M. C. A. Quartette.
Song—"America" by everybody.
Benediction by Rev. Mr. Williams, Drum Corps.

BIG EAGLE PICNIC SET FOR TOMORROW

Athletic Contests Promise Much Excitement and a Large Attendance.

Much interest has been aroused in the athletic events planned for the big Eagle Picnic to be held tomorrow at Cold Spring Park. Two of the events at hand, the baseball game between two teams representing the Eagle and Moose lodges of the city and the tug of war in which teams from both lodges will participate, are expected to arouse much excitement. Both orders have been on a still hunt to secure the best baseball talent in the city and the rivalry has grown keen enough to warrant the assertion that the contest will generate as much enthusiasm as a big league contest. Practically every lunch in the city has been engaged for the day to take all those who will attend to the grounds and a big attendance from both lodges as well as others from the city is expected.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

All the Photograph Studios will be closed on Sunday after May 29th. Those wishing pictures made remember above date.

The ladies of the W. H. Sargeant W. R. C. No. 21 are requested to meet at G. A. R. hall Sunday morning to attend services at Congregational church. All visiting members in the city are invited to join in these services.

Regular meeting of the W. H. C. No. 2 at W. W. Veteran hall Tuesday afternoon at 7:30 o'clock.

The members of Harry L. Gifford Auxiliary are requested to meet at U. S. W. hall at 10 o'clock Sunday morning to attend Memorial services. Members are also requested to meet at the hall promptly at 8 o'clock Monday morning to assist in the decoration of comrades' graves. Sarah C. Dougherty Pres., Pearl L. Hill, Sec.

NOTICE.

All members of Harry L. Gifford Camp, ex-soldiers and sailors of the Spanish-American war are cordially invited to meet at Spanish War Veterans hall Sunday morning at 10 o'clock to attend Memorial services at the Congregational church, and at 8 o'clock Monday morning to take part in decorating comrades' graves. ## UNLOCKED SWITCH CAUSED BAD WRECK

Switch Shanty Demolished, One Car Wrecked and Four Others Derailed on St. Paul This Morning.

Carless work by a brakeman, supposedly on train 165, southbound from Madison, in neglecting to lock the switch on the main track near the North Jackson street crossing, resulted in a bad wreck early this morning on the St. Paul road in which the elevated shanty of the crossing tender was hurled across the street and completely demolished, one box car stripped clean from the trucks and five others derailed, two of them being turned over on their sides while a strip of track sixty feet long was damaged. Had the shanty been occupied at the time, the wreck would have resulted fatally, but as it was, no one was injured.

ROAD REPORTED TO HAVE TAKEN ACTION

Member of Switchmen's Committee Stated Today That Local Varies Have Been Made First Class.

According to a statement made by one of the Jansville switchmen who is a member of the committee which has been in Chicago for some time past, the North-Western has made or is on the verge of making the local yards first class. Should this be done, the St. Paul yards will undoubtedly be made first class also.

This move, which has been rumored for some time, comes as a result of a long fight made by the members of the union in this city and while it will mean no increase in the amount of work done, will result in a substantial increase in wages. Recently the switchmen, through the work of the national organization, were granted an increase of between ten and twelve dollars a month, according to the work done, and the making of the local yards first class will result in further increase equal in amount to that already granted.

About six years ago, the switchmen on the St. Paul waged a similar fight and gained their point only to lose when the St. Paul officials found that the North-Western would not take similar action. That the yards have been made first class seems to be the general impression but the matter could not be substantiated officially.

GOLF GAMES MONDAY ARE ARRANGED FOR

East Side Versus the West Side—Special Handicap Match, Putting Contests Decided On.

Monday promises to be a gala day for members of the Jansville Golf Club, it having the format opening of the golf season with matches between the East and West side teams, a special handicap tournament open to all members of the club with a winner's prize and a runner up prize, putting contests for the ladies, bridge games in the club house with suitable prizes and afternoon tea and water, for the ladies, the regular club supper at six thirty followed by the first of the regular Tuesday club day dances in the evening. In the future the ladies' afternoon bridge games will be played on Thursday and the regular club day with the club supper and dance on Tuesdays.

The make-up of the East and West side teams and the pairing for the play is as follows. J. P. Baker is captain of the West side team and J. L. Wilcox of the East side team.

There will also be a special handicap match with prizes for both the winner and runner up, open to all the club members. The first one for the day will meet the nine o'clock street car.

It is believed that one of the brakemen on train 165, a time freight train from Madison, which passed through just before three o'clock, threw the switch in an old pattern, and if not locked, will spring back when a train passes over it.

Some Pertinent Tire Facts of Interest to Automobile Owners

THERE seems to be a wide spread idea among automobile owners that it does not pay to have an old tire retreaded or rebuilt.

They say, "Why should I pay $12.00 or $15.00 for a retreaded 30x3 1/2 case when I can get a new one for $30.00?" That is good enough as far as it goes, but, Mr. Owner, are you sure of getting your guaranteed mileage out of that case? If you cut it or run it flat you cannot expect the tire company to replace it and you are $30.00 out. To be sure, every company guarantees its tire against defects for 3500 miles but none of the leading manufacturers has to replace more than 2 to 3 per cent of its output. That does not mean that only that many give full mileage. Not more than 10 per cent of the tires sent in for replacement are allowed. The tire companies may not admit this, but it is so and very few companies refuse a just claim for replacement.

We guarantee our work according to price and figures the same as the guarantee on a new tire and you have the balance of the price of a new tire earning the money for another job.

And That's Not All.

Mr. Owner, suppose you have a tire go wrong and you send it into the factory for an adjustment. How long do you have to wait before finding whether you will ever get a replacement or not? It's safe to say it will be a month before you get satisfaction.

We are here, not in Akron, New York or Germany. Bring your tire back to us if you are not satisfied. We will tell you in ten minutes whether it is your fault or ours. You can get more genuine satisfaction out of a ten-minute talk than a month's correspondence.

What Does Your Money Earn?

Now, to go back, Mr. Owner. Where is your money earning you the most, in the bank or in a tire? Taking the same tire, 30x3 1/2, for example: we will retread it for you for $12.00. New it would cost you at least $30.00 and it is guaranteed 3500 miles. Our retread costs you but $12.00 and is guaranteed for 1400 miles. If you get a puncture while out in a rainstorm and run in on a flat tire you only lose $14.00 on a retread. If you have a new one you stand to lose $30.00.

It's up to you, Mr. Owner. Where is that $18.00 difference doing you the most good? Tied up in a tire or in the bank drawing interest?

And Furthermore

If the job is not right we'll make it right. We've got to do so to hold your trade.

If you have ruined it through a lack of proper care we will explain to you how to avoid the same thing again.

It's up to you, Mr. Owner. Which is the better to tie your money up in—tires or real estate? To wait for a month to get an adjustment or get it at once?

Call and see us and get our prices on other sizes and jobs. We will give you some more facts in our next ad.

The Hoosier Special Kitchen Cabinet

Saves Time

Saves Steps

THE HOOSIER SPECIAL

Is the greatest step-saving and time-saving device ever invented for the kitchen. It is in use three times a day, year in year out. It saves all unnecessary steps.

With the Hoosier Special in your kitchen you have everything at your fingers' ends. When closed it is compact and takes no more room than would an ordinary kitchen table.

This cabinet contains space for all articles used in the kitchen, put together in a neat, compact, sanitary manner. It has a flour bin with a capacity of 60 pounds, self cleaning and sanitary; with detachable flour sifter. Sugar bin—metal. Holds 20 pounds. Self cleaning and sanitary. A want list that reminds you of your daily needs, no writing. A bread and cake box—all metal—mouse proof—easily cleaned. Two compartment drawers for cutlery—handy location. A rolling pin rest—permits thorough ventilation. A sliding shelf which makes it easy to get pots and pans. A roomy cupboard for pots and pans. A plate rack which brings pans to your fingers' ends. A cupboard for cereals and kitchen dishes. A sliding aluminum top adds one-third to table space. Spice cans of crystal glass are air-tight. Tea and coffee canisters of crystal glass—air tight. A drawer for folded table linen, napkins and towels. There is nothing lacking.

The flour comes out of a sifter; the sugar bin is dust proof, the spice cans and tea and coffee cans are air tight; the metal bread and cake box is mouse proof, and the aluminum extension table top is roomy and easy to keep clean, all of which go to make the Hoosier absolutely sanitary.

The Hoosier is all made of solid oak—the only wood that will not warp in the heat of the kitchen.

The Hoosier is the best of all kitchen cabinets. You will have no other, once you see the Hoosier. See them in our window; step inside and we will explain the numerous time-saving uses to which they may be put. They are here exclusively.

PIANOS OF ALL RELIABLE GRADES

$300 to $400

No matter what figure you wish to pay our line gives positive assurance of "the best for the money."

In other words, the man with $200 to spend for a piano, in dealing here, gets relatively as good a piano as the more fortunate person who can invest double that amount. We offer you one piano in each grade, the very best in its grade. It is the one that gives you the most piano for your money.

We can refer you to over a thousand customers who will corroborate these facts. These people investigated and compared values, then came to us and bought, just as you will doubtless do, because our values are evident and our claims, for our goods and methods are substantiated.

Remember, there are no "tremendous money makers" in our line. Each piano offered is the acknowledged leader in its grade and we offer it at the lowest price consistent with its quality and cost.

Ask to see the Regent in Mission Style. It is an especial Value at $310
